SCIENTISTS CANNOT LAND AT ST. PIERRE

No Search Possible Till Mont Pelee Subsides Into Somnolence.

OBSERVATIONS MADE ON SHIP

Either a Still Greater Eruption Is Coming or Volcano Will Take a Long Rest.

THE PANIC CONTINUES IN FORT DE FRANCE

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Castries, St. Lucia, May 23.—Lieut. McCormick, who arrived here with the Potomac last night, reports having made an unsuccessful attempt to land at St. Pierre yesterday morning. On the Potomac at the time were the American scientists who went to Martinique on the Dixie under the direction of the Washington authorities.

Since the more recent eruptions of Mont Pelee the entire aspect of the ruins has changed. Lava-like matter has covered the entire city, effacing all landmarks. The place has the appearance of having been entombed for hundreds of years. It will be impossible to make further search until the volcano has lapsed into somnolence.

As the Potomac ran through the roadstead a huge rent was discernible in the south slope of the volcano. From it lava-like mud flowed incessantly over the hills to the westward and down into the sea.

When the Potomac left Fort de France that city still seemed to be safe, but panic continued among the inhabitants. Ever since Mont Pelee resumed eruption Monday an electric storm has raged.

Magazines in Danger.

Electric discharges of terrific force have been almost continuous, and it is feared that an explosion will occur among the hundreds of tons of high explosives stored back of the city.

The D'Assas, a French cruiser, with a scientific commission, arrived at Fort de France last night.

At Pointe-a-Pitre, Gaudeloupe, more than 100 miles away, the flaring lights from Mont Pelee could be seen last night. It had the appearance of a gigantic torch burning in the sky. Occasionally the fire would die down, only to flare up again brighter than ever. Long after the flash would come a deep detonation that could be plainly heard. The sea is tossed by a force from below that causes waves of almost tidal proportions.

It is now the unanimous opinion of the scientists that this is an explosive volcano, no real lava or Moya rock material having been emitted, only mud, steam gases and fragments of the old crater beds. The scientists compare the mountain's out-throw to the steam of a boiler in which the pressure rises to bursting point, and they think it possible a more violent outbreak may occur.

Either a Greater Explosion or a Rest.

The scientists remark that the explosions have occurred at progressively longer intervals, and that they also have been progressively more violent. Thus, there had been three light eruptions of ashes. On May 5 there was an overflow of mud which caused the destruction of the Usine Guerin; on May 8 there was outbursts which destroyed St. Pierre and on May 20, or after an interval of 20 days, the last tremendous outburst occurred.

A new period of rest is now on, and one of two things may happen: The pressure may be confined for a still longer period, and then explode with still greater violence, spreading destruction over a vast area, or the mountain may remain quiescent for another half century.

Returning from San Juan, Porto Rico, today, the Gazette and Herald's relief ship, the M. E. Luckenbach, sailed for full 30 miles through a heavy cloud of ashes. Passing St. Pierre, Mont Pelee was seen in violent eruption. It would have been a dangerous undertaking to have run within a mile of the landing, and to have gone ashore would have been to court destruction. When the M. E. Luckenbach arrived at Fort de France her decks were deeply carpeted with ashes.

While the volcano has been active during the entire week, there has been no serious explosions since Tuesday morning.

Two more bodies were found at St. Pierre yesterday afternoon. Some gendarmes who returned to Fort de France from St. Pierre last evening brought a number of books and valuables which they had found in the open safes there. Another large party from Fort de France, numbering nearly 1,500, left last evening for Trinidad and other places.

SOUFRIERE STILL ACTIVE.

English Explorers Forced to Steam Seaward—New Craters Formed. 120 Caribs Rescued.

LONDON, May 24.—The Kingstown (St. Vincent) correspondent of the Daily Mail, cabling under date of May 22, says:

"La Soufriere is still very active. Lava is streaming into the sea, while clouds of sulphurous smoke, extending for miles, obscured the land and compelled us to steam seaward at full speed. We rescued 120 Caribs from Cura, 28 miles from here. We saw another crater between La Soufriere and Chateau Belair, emitting stones, and also smaller vents elsewhere.

"The food of the peasantry is ruined, and everywhere the island is blighted for fruit and vegetables. Cattle are being shipped to other islands for pasturage.

MINE EXPLOSION ADDS 100 DEATHS TO MAY'S RECORD

Of 133 Men at Work in British Columbia Shaft Only 24 Escape.

FIRE DAMP DELAYS RESCUE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Fernie, B. C., May 23.—In a terrible explosion at 7:30 last evening in No. 2 shaft of the Crow's Ness Pass Coal Company's mine, near Fernie, which also extends to No. 3 shaft, only 24 of the 133 men working in the mine at the time escaped alive. Nine dead bodies have been taken out.

The cause of the explosion is said to have been the presence of fire damp, ignited by a match with which a miner was lighting a pipe in defiance of orders. A tremendous explosion occurred in No. 2 mine, followed in a few seconds by another explosion in No. 3, connected by a short tunnel. The majority of the men were in No. 3.

Every family in town is directly affected by the calamity and the entire population is in a state of frenzy.

The work of rescue is being hurried and perfect order prevails, assistance coming from every available source.

The presence of coal damp is adding to the danger of rescue work. However, it is not believed that anyone in the mine can be alive. All the bodies will soon be recovered.

This is the first serious accident which has occurred in these mines, which have been open for only a couple of years.

Fernie lies in the center of a country very rich in coal deposits. The veins extend eastward into the neighboring territory of Alberta. The building of the railway four years ago was followed by the operation of the coal mines, which belonged to a company composed largely of Toronto capitalists. These are the coal fields that J. J. Hill was reported to have gained control of a year or so ago.

Fernie's only industry is mining and its population is about 4,000. Most of the miners are foreign born.

LAWYER'S BILL DISPUTED.

Carnegie Company Objects to Paying $25,000 for Counsel Fee.

BALTIMORE, MD., May 23.—(Special.)—Edgar Gans and ex-Gov. William Pinkney Whyte were the principal witnesses this morning in the suit of Nicholas P. Bond against the Carnegie Steel Company, in which Mr. Bond is seeking to recover a counsel fee of $25,000. Gans and Whyte were called as experts to testify that the fee charged by Bond was not excessive. Mr. Gans said that the fee was very reasonable for the amount of work done.

Ex-Gov. Whyte, who has been practicing law for 50 years, said he thought the fee was very reasonable.

Mr. Bond was employed by the Carnegie Steel Company to collect a claim of $126,000 from the Richmond & Danville Railroad Company after it went into the hands of a receiver. The litigation extended through seven years and was carried to the supreme court of the United States, where it was decided in favor of the Carnegie company, and a judgment for $180,696, the amount of the claim with interest, was secured. Mr. Bond was paid a retainer of $500 and at the end of the case sent in a bill for $25,000, which was refused. The defendant company admits that a fee is due Mr. Bond, but claims that the sum asked is excessive.

Fund Raising for Swarthmore.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—At a meeting of the trustees of Swarthmore college today, Isaac H. Clothier of this city offered to give to the college $100,000 contingent upon $400,000 being raised. This offer was met with an immediate response of $150,000.

DELAY IN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS IS ONLY TECHNICAL

Practical Assurance That Boer and Briton Will Bury the Hatchet at Once.

BROKERS WERE EXCITED

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, May 23.—There is every reason to believe that peace in South Africa is practically secured. The private and official advices received tonight in London from South Africa all point to the same conclusion. The delay is technical, and to end the long war seems to be the desire of both British and Boer leaders. The latter, however, are unable to convince all their followers of the wisdom of acquiescing in the terms of peace.

Were the Boers a thoroughly disciplined force, dependent upon the action of their general officers, peace would probably be proclaimed tonight; but Botha, De Wet and the other generals seem themselves unable positively to guarantee the degree to which their example will be followed.

The most pessimistic forecast heard tonight only admits that a few isolated bands of irreconcilables may be left in the field.

The British public is still quite ignorant of the course of events in South Africa, and there are no demonstrations tonight on the London streets, although on all sides the question asked is, "Is it peace?" On the other hand, the stock exchange throughout the day was a seething mass of brokers who eagerly bought South African shares, while long after the closing of the exchange a thousand brokers crowded Throgmorton street and did a frantic curb business on the strength of the peace outlook.

BERLIN, May 23.—The foreign office here has been advised tonight from Pretoria that peace in South Africa is practically concluded. The articles of surrender are ready to be signed, with the exception that the approval of the British cabinet of the wording of the secondary provisions is awaited. The suspension of hostilities may be announced at any hour.

LOVER'S SUIT AGAINST A PITTSBURGH GIRL

She Married the Other Man and First Suitor Demands Damages—Plaintiff Distinguished Foreigner.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 23.—A breach of promise suit of unusual interest will soon be heard in common pleas court, the man being the plaintiff. The principals are said to be prominent socially.

The plaintiff is Francis de Vadney, and the defendant Mrs. Cecile Sterne, now wife of Samuel Sterne, a salesman for the wholesale liquor firm of Charles Sterne & Co. of Camden, N. J. Mrs. Sterne was Miss Cecile Livingston of Pittsburgh. Since her marriage to Mr. Sterne they have lived in Germantown, but about three weeks ago the house was closed and Mrs. Sterne went ostensibly on a visit to her kinsfolk in the Smoky City.

Mrs. Sterne is beautiful and accomplished. While on a visit to New York she is said to have met De Vadney. She is said to have consented to become his wife. De Vadney made arrangements for the wedding and prepared for his return to Europe with his bride.

At this time Miss Livingston visited friends in Philadelphia, where she met Samuel Sterne. Her new suitor became enraged [illegible] Miss Livingston, urged a hasty wedding and it was agreed to.

TWO BOYS DROWN IN YOUGHIOGHENY AT M'KEESPORT

While Carelessly Rocking a Skiff They Were Upset and Drawn Down by Suction.

HOLIDAY'S SAD ENDING

The practice of so many young men and boys who find recreation on the rivers of "rocking the boat" was the cause of two fatalities yesterday afternoon at McKeesport. Two High school boys were drowned in the Youghiogheny river. The dead boys are:

W. KENT M'CARTHY, aged 16, son of J. A. McCarthy of Stevens Ohio, Va.

CHARLES SKEWES, aged 15, son of Master Mechanic Joseph Skewes of the National rolling mill, McKeesport.

Skewes did not attend school yesterday and his friend, McCarthy, was dismissed early on a note. The boys hired a skiff from Joseph Fairbaugh and went on the river.

Opposite McKeesport waterworks they were seen to rock the boat from side to side until it nearly dipped and finally did turn over.

McCarthy struck out for shore, while Skewes tried to reach the skiff. McCarthy was seen to sink, but his body did not rise. When within a foot of the skiff Skewes also went under and did not rise.

This strange feature of the drowning is thought to have been caused by the suction pumps of the waterworks drawing the boys under the water. Both were known to be good swimmers.

When Fairbaugh, who witnessed the drowning from his boathouse, saw that the boys did not return to the surface he went out in a skiff and dragged for the bodies, which he found two hours later. This makes 13 bodies recovered by Fairbaugh in his career as a boatman. Skewes' body was taken to his home and McCarthy's to the home of his uncle, R. L. McCarthy, a real estate man, with whom he had been living.

MAKING STRONG CLAIMS.

All Three Active Gubernatorial Candidates and Their Friends Watching Philadelphia Fight.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 23.—(Special.)—"Judge Pennypacker will receive the 85 votes cast by the Philadelphia delegation at the state convention. He will be nominated and elected."—Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham.

"I will have a pronounced majority of the delegates to the state convention."—Attorney General John P. Elkin.

These statements were made this afternoon by the gentlemen quoted. The three active Republican candidates for governor—Watres, Pennypacker and Elkin—were in Philadelphia today. Watres held several conferences today and tonight left for Washington. He, too, is confident of success.

A hurry-up call had been sent out by Elkin to his friends, and he met them this afternoon. Among others who called were Recorder Connell of Scranton, George B. Woomer of Lebanon, Representative McClain of Lancaster and T. L. Eyre of Chester. In reply to questions he refused to say how many delegates he expects to control in the convention. Ex-Senator Walter Merrick is in Tioga looking after the Pennypacker fight, and Col. Watres' friends also are working. All three candidates are registered.

The Republican city convention tonight decided that the conventions will be held on Thursday morning and the primary elections on the preceding night. The registration of candidates for delegates will take place Tuesday night.

The Elkin play for delegates in Philadelphia developed tonight. The Oxford Republican club of the Twenty-ninth ward, a home of Judge Pennypacker, adopted resolutions indorsing Elkin. They were offered by Charles F. Kindred, who was the ward leader until Commissioner Durham put him out of politics. The club is a small one and its policy is directed by Kindred.

HOMESTEAD WOMAN TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Mrs. Fred Gere, Pretty Little Brunette, Put an End to Her Own Life.

Mrs. Gussie Gere, 21 years of age, wife of Fred Gere of No. 128 West Ninth avenue, Homestead, died at 10:15 o'clock last night of carbolic acid poisoning.

Mrs. Gere was until about a year ago Miss Gussie Stromberg. She was a pretty black haired woman, vivacious and apparently happy. Her husband was employed in the Homestead Steel works and during the present week has been working at night.

He said last night that he knew of no cause for his wife's action, but one of the physicians said that the woman had some time ago attempted to take her life.

Mr. Gere said last night that when he returned from work yesterday morning his wife told him that she was going to Pittsburgh to see a friend. He went to bed and awoke about 3:30. His wife returned at 4. He went to the back porch, thinking that his wife would get him something to eat. When he went in 15 minutes later he found her on the floor with an empty ounce bottle which had contained carbolic, beside her.

THE PRESIDENT LUNCHES ON THE FRENCH WARSHIP

Tells of the Gratitude of America for Aid from the French.

THIS IS THE DAY OF GREAT UNVEILING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Annapolis, Md., May 23.—For the first time in American history a president of the United States has placed foot upon the deck of a man-of-war flying the tri-color of France. There, in ringing words, he spoke of the part played by Louis XVI. in aiding in the achievement of American independence and of the gallantry displayed by the French officers who did his bidding—of Lafayette and of Rochambeau, whose statue, purchased by France and erected by the United States, will be unveiled at Washington tomorrow.

According to the French mission today will mark an epoch in the history of the relations of the two countries. Annapolis Roads, four miles from the naval academy, where the Gaulois is anchored, was alive with craft—battleships, protected cruisers, gunboats and torpedo-boats—flying the flag of the United States, besides little steam launches. The naval scene was even more striking than that at New York when Prince Henry came, for here there were more and larger men-of-war.

The president and his party were met at the railroad station by Commander Wainwright and his staff. The president entered the waiting carriage and was taken to the wharf, where he found waiting him his barge under the command of Lieut. Edward McCauley.

Great Guns Speak.

The French mission meanwhile reached the Gaulois, and all were in readiness for the president. As the president's yacht, the Dolphin, steamed on the starboard quarter of the Gaulois the guns began to bark on the French ship, the Olympia, Kearsarge, Alabama and Indiana. One hundred and five guns were fired by them in honor of the president.

When the president's craft drew alongside of the gangway of the Gaulois he quickly jumped upon the platform, and followed by his companions, ran up the ladder. As he did so, the United States flag was hauled down from the Gaulois' mainmast and in its stead was unfurled the president's flag.

As soon as the president came aboard the Gaulois, accompanied by his daughter and Secretaries Root and Moody, he was met by Ambassador Cambon, Gen. Brugere and Admiral Fournier and escorted to the cabin of the officers. Here there were general handshaking, congratulations and preliminary refreshments.

Then followed the luncheon tendered to President Roosevelt by the French ambassador. The banquet hall had been improvised upon the ample after deck of the Gaulois.

How Guests Were Seated.

President Roosevelt occupied the middle seat at the head of the table. Extending above his head were two monster 12-inch guns, protruding from the rear turret of the Gaulois; but those grim reminders of French prowess were offset at the foot of the table, where there confronted Mr. Roosevelt a splendid display of the American colors, with the eagle, outstretched wings, the national coat-of-arms and the motto, "E Pluribus Unum" reflected in the brilliant electric lights.

The chief guest of honor next to President Roosevelt was Gov. John Walter Smith of Maryland, who was assigned to a seat near the chief magistrate. Admiral Dewey sat next to Gov. Smith. Immediately opposite the president was Mme. Cambon, wife of the French ambassador, and on his right Mrs. Root, wife of the secretary of war, and upon his left Mrs. Lodge, wife of the Massachusetts senator. Next to Mrs. Lodge was Gen. Brugere, commander of the French armies, and to the left of Mrs. Lodge was Admiral Fournier, inspector general of the French navy.

After the delicacies of a choice French menu had been discussed, Ambassador Cambon arose, and in the name of President Loubet of the French republic, bade a hearty welcome to all who were present. He was especially complimentary in his allusions to President Roosevelt, in whose hands, he said, the precious liberties of the American people are safe.

The Toasts Begin.

He concluded by offering a toast "to the president of the glorious American

WHY PELEE'S LIGHT CAN BE SEEN FOR A HUNDRED MILES

Not the Flame Itself, but Reflection from Lava in the Crater Upon the Cloud.

VIOLENCE NOT GROWING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Cable dispatches to The Pittsburgh Gazette and New York Herald from Pointe-a-Pitre, which say that "a great glimmer was seen last night in the direction of Martinique, accompanied by gun-like reports," indicate clearly that the eruptions of Mont Pelee continue with considerable violence, but the significance is apt to be over-estimated. Pointe-a-Pitre is on the island of Guadeloupe, almost 100 miles from Mont Pelee and midway between the two places is the island of Dominica, which contains mountains over 4,000 feet high. The glow must, therefore, be at least 8,000 feet above sea level if its origin is in Pelee.

The conditions favorable for the production of such phenomena are very simple. There is, doubtless, a large mass of incandescent lava now occupying the greatly enlarged crater. This overflows, forming the lava streams, which are described as flowing down the mountain sides. The streams quickly lose their heat and a dark crust forms on the surface. The lava in the crater, however, remains incandescent because of its greater mass and because the escaping gases bring fresh supplies of heated matter from great depths. This crater is like a ladle of molten steel which is kept in violent ebullition by the escape of the gases.

Light Is Reflected from Lava.

The crater will remain in this condition as long as the supply of gases is sufficient to enable them to force their way through the lava. As the supply gradually diminishes the lava in the crater will slowly solidify, the vent decreasing in size, while a new cone is built up by the material thrown out by the recurrent explosions.

To return now to the "glimmer" observed from Pointe-a-Pitre. The vapor thrown out by the volcano condenses, and with the dust carried up forms a cloud which hangs over the crater and is illumined by the incandescent lava below. While it is highly probable that inflammable gases, such as hyron and chlorine, are given off by all volcanoes in violent eruption, and some actual flames may be seen, by far the larger part of the illumination which characterizes all such eruptions is due to the reflected glow from incandescent lava. Later reports, doubtless, will indicate that the glow has been observed from much greater distances.

No Proof of Increased Violence.

With regard to the reported "gun-like" sounds, it should be remembered that every ear in the Lesser Antilles is strained toward Martinique and sounds are eagerly noted which under ordinary conditions would be wholly ignored, and it does not follow that these reports are louder than those which accompanied the first eruption. Then, too, the distance is not very much greater than the sounds of heavy cannonading may be heard. The hearing of these reports at Pointe-a-Pitre, especially if the atmospheric conditions are favorable, does not, therefore, indicate a renewal of activity approaching the first eruption in violence.

TO FREE AMERICANS.

The Cuban House Passes a General Amnesty Bill Granting Pardon to Prisoners.

HAVANA, May 23.—The bill before the house granting pardon to all Americans for acts committed during the American intervention was amended to grant these prisoners a general amnesty instead of pardon. In this form the bill passed without opposition. Final action in the senate will be taken Monday.

If this bill is finally passed it will set at liberty Estes G. Rathbone and all other Americans under sentence awaiting trial.

Today the senate adopted a resolution of thanks to the president, the congress and the people of the United States.

MRS. CASSATT TREASURER.

The Society of Colonial Dames Holds Its Annual Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—The Society of Colonial Dames today elected these officers:

President, Mrs. Kate Cabell Claiborne, Virginia; vice presidents, Mrs. Samuel Colt of Connecticut, Mrs. Henry F. Lehl, Lyster of Detroit, Mrs. William F. Reed of Baltimore; secretaries, Mrs. Joseph R. Lamar of Augusta, Ga., Mrs. Rosa Wright Smith of Washington, D. C.; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Cassatt of Philadelphia; registrar, Mrs. Emil Richter of Portsmouth, N. H.; historian, Miss Anne Hollingsworth Wharton of Philadelphia.

CORPORATION TO ABANDON FOUR WORKS

Keystone, Shiffler, Pittsburgh and Schultz Plants to Go.

WALKER WORKS MAY FOLLOW THEM

Concentration Scheme Near Economy Will Cost $3,500,000.

NEW TOWN FOR 4,000 WILL BE CREATED

The construction of a monster new structural and bridge works by the American Bridge Company in Beaver county, near Economy, on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad, means the abandonment of the four works of the company in Pittsburgh and McKees Rocks and possibly the Walker works at Homestead. Skirting the new works, this side of Economy, will be a new town, providing homes for the 4,000 men to be employed there. The Pennsylvania Company will erect a new station on the Ft. Wayne railroad.

The American Bridge Company will build a modern hospital and hotel, and a new community will spring up. There will be an office building erected by the bridge company, which alone will cost $150,000. Contiguous to the new works will be extensive yards for steel barge construction, a new departure. The investment in works and town will aggregate $3,500,000.

Works to Be Abandoned.

It was officially announced yesterday that all this will mean the abandonment of the Keystone bridge works in the Lawrenceville district, purchased by the bridge company from the Carnegie Steel Company. The Keystone works handles 3,000 tons of heavy structural material monthly. It is one of the best equipped plants operated by the company, but will be abandoned with the others. The Shiffler and Pittsburgh works, east of the Keystone, each assembling 1,000 tons of material monthly, will also be abandoned, and along with these will go the new office building of that section. The Schultz bridge works in McKees Rocks, handling about 700 tons, will be razed, and later it may be that the modern new Walker works at Homestead will be abandoned.

Instead of these there will go up at the new station near Economy plants which will handle 20,000 tons of material monthly, and be the greatest works of the kind in the world. The next greatest is the Pencoyd, near Philadelphia, which fabricates about 8,000 tons a month.

The site of these improvements is 105 acres taken over by the American Bridge Company, at its organization, in the purchase of the Berlin Bridge Works. It lies between Big Sewickley creek and Economy and is bounded on one side by the Ohio river and on the other by the Ft. Wayne railroad.

Construction of the new structural works is estimated to cost $2,500,000. In addition to this will be the office building, a hospital, hotel and the new town, which will add about $1,000,000. The works will be grouped over a stretch of three-fourths of a mile along the railroad and river.

Foundation work is now under way, under supervision of the erecting department of the Pittsburgh division of the American Bridge Company. Especial effort will be made to complete by August a great eye-bar plant, especially designed to handle the great pieces of steel contracted for by the Wabash railroad for the bridges to span the Monongahela and completed this year and none of the existing plants of the bridge company can handle the work. Some of the Wabash eye-bars will be 14 by 2½ inches and 60 feet long.

Big Ship Yard a New Departure.

As stated, one of the new departures at Economy will be a great yard for the construction of steel barges. There will be seven large buildings, forge, machine, template, eye-bar, assembling and riveting, receiving and shipping buildings. Besides these there will be a large group of smaller buildings, including power plants, paint shops and a number of others.

The general concentration scheme is regarded by the executives of the American Bridge Company and United States Steel Corporation as an important economy. As the start it is expected that the sale of the realty now occupied will almost defray the cost of the new works. The site of the Keystone works alone is estimated to be worth $500,000.

The American Bridge Company plans subsequently to take up a similar concentration scheme in the Chicago district. The company is rushed with business and it is said if all new business were cut off now that already booked would keep all plants active till well into 1903.

TWO BIG CONTRACTS.

Westinghouse Interests Will Equip Traction Plant and Railroad Shops in Australia.

NEW YORK, May 23.—(Special.)—The Westinghouse interests, through their Australian representatives, Noyes Brothers of Sydney, have secured the contract for the conversion of the existing horse tramways into an electric traction system in Adelaide, South Australia. The value of the contract is over $2,000,000. Ultimately the road will be 65 miles long.

The Queensland government railroad authorities have placed a contract for the American equipment of the new railroad shops at Ipswich, near Brisbane. The plant will consist of three 250-horse power Westinghouse engines and two phase generators, switchboards, steam piping, pumps and all motors for driving the machines. The value of the contract exceeds $1,000,000.

Trophy Cannon of the Revolution Placed in the Carnegie Institute.

WILL TEACH PATRIOTISM

Interesting Exercises Under Auspices of Sons of American Revolution. Congressman Dalzell, Col. Harry A. Hall and Dr. Holland Speak.

Seven Revolutionary Cannon as They Appeared at Carnegie Hall Last Night When Placed in Care of the Carnegie Institute.

The formal presentation of seven revolutionary cannon, which for almost a century were hidden in the Allegheny arsenal and were found by The Pittsburgh Gazette several months ago, was made to the Pennsylvania society, Sons of the American Revolution, by the Hon. John Dalzell in Carnegie Music hall last night. The guns were afterward turned over to Dr. W. J. Holland to be placed in in the Carnegie museum.

One of the guns has the legend of being given by Count de Rochambeau, commander of the French forces in the United States in 1780-82, whose great-grandnephew is now in this country to witness the unveiling of a monument to his illustrious ancestor.

While the audience was entering the hall Walter E. Hall played military and patriotic airs on the organ. The cannon were on a dais at the front of the platform. This dais was decorated with the colors of the society.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the field, staff and line officers of the Eighteenth and Fourteenth infantry and of Battery B entered and took seats on the platform.

As soon as all were seated the organ broke into the strains of the national anthem and the audience, rising and saluting the flag, joined in singing the "Star-Spangled Banner." From the right and left front entrances of the hall the color guards of both regiments marched to the platform where the colors were massed during the singing. The Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young delivered the invocation.

W. L. Jones, president of the society, introduced the Hon. John Dalzell, who so successfully saved the guns for the people of Pittsburgh. He said:

As I look out on this splendid audience I am moved by mingled feelings of pleasure and of pain. By feelings of pleasure because I recognize so universal a desire to participate in a ceremony that excites the liveliest feelings of patriotism and love of country; by feelings of pain because of the memories the surroundings suggest. * * * * I had a humble place in the dedication of this library, the wonderfully generous gift to all the people of a wonderfully generous man. God bless Andrew Carnegie for his sanctification of wealth and his vindication of it as an efficient agent in the sacred cause of humanity.

McKinley's Presence Recalled.

I am now most impressed with the fact that the last time I stood here to make an address was when I shared the privilege of speech with that beloved man whose memory is hallowed tonight wherever civilization extends in the hearts of all people, the martyred president, my friend, William McKinley. For me his charming personality pervades this place. I seem to hear again the ringing tones of his sympathetic voice, his inspiring call to high endeavor and its noble purpose, and for the moment I am fain to think it an unhealthy dream that anything so atrocious can be part of American history as his death at the hands of a cowardly assassin. Fact in his case outruns fiction. Surely the poetic genius of all ages must have had him in prophetic conception when he put the mouth of the eulogist of Brutus the touching and immortal words: "His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him that nature might stand up and say to all the world: This was a man."

Mr. Dalzell referred to the present being the patriotic hour, in view of the country's glorious past, prosperous present and pregnant future, its history and institutions and responsibilities. He referred to the "Spirit of '76," and said the Sons of the Revolution were the embodiment of that time and recited in most dramatic manner the events of those days. Then he told of the manner of getting possession of the historic cannon, which for three quarters of a century had lain at the Allegheny arsenal, henceforth to be open to public gaze as a lesson in patriotism.

Referring to the arsenal he said he had not yet abandoned the hope of securing the ground for a public park. The value of it is estimated by the war department to be $1,225,542. He reviewed its history from 1814, when it was established, and quoted from a local author of the time of 1825, describing the visit there of Lafayette when he was three score and ten.

He referred to the order issued in President Buchanan's time to remove the cannon there to the south, and how the citizens turned out and intercepted them on Wood street and finally had the order rescinded. He referred to many more events in this vicinity from its settlement down to the civil war and claimed "honorable mention" for Pennsylvania in all the important events in the advancement of the country.

"The American congress," he said, "recognizing this, generously passed a law allowing us to store these trophies in the Carnegie institute, to be in the custody of the Pennsylvania association of the Sons of the American Revolution. I give them into your keeping as trophies of that great struggle that brought forth the American republic. They will serve to be reminders of a war which had for its purpose the highest good of the individual man and prove a convincing lesson in patriotism."

Reception of the Guns.

The guns were received by Col. Harry Alvan Hall and turned over to the trustees of the Carnegie museum. Col. Hall said: "It is with great pride that I have the honor to receive these historic cannon on behalf of the Pennsylvania society of the Sons of the American Revolution from you, sir, to whose unflagging energy and high abilities, and to whose constant and unwilling zeal in behalf of your constituents, we owe their custody."

The guns were received for the museum by Dr. W. J. Holland, who said: "These throats of brass remind us of some of those who in the halls of legislative debate urged their mission to this country." He said they came by the order of an insenate king, confirmed in his folly, and deaf to the counsels, warnings and admonitions of that great man whose name is proudly borne today by this great city.

He said the cannon were now in a treasure house, where they will silently teach the millions who will pass them lessons of patriotism and of loyalty to those high principles which guided our forefathers. Long years had passed since the hands of the Anglo-Saxon brothers were raised in hostile conflict with this nation and the passions and prejudices then awakened had in a large measure been subdued and the mission of English-speaking men is to stand in advocacy of judgment unto mercy and for the maintenance of justice, righteousness and peace among the kindreds of the earth.

After Dr. Holland's address President Jones invited those present to examine the trophies, and after singing "America" the exercises came to a close.

Part The Gazette Took.

The Gazette claims the honor of finding these revolutionary cannon buried in the arsenal. Five of them were found surrounding the fountain in the lower arsenal grounds, and the other two in the arsenal. Attention was called at the time of the discovery that these trophies which had been captured from the English at Saratoga and by Col. Morgan, the daring partisan leader, could be saved for the Carnegie institute if proper steps were taken. The attention of E. M. Bigelow, then director of public works, was directed to the matter and he at once called upon Col. Isaac Arnold, then in command at the arsenal, but since deceased, who told him that it would require an act of congress to get the guns.

At that time Col. Arnold had instructions to ship the guns to the Watervliet arsenal, but he told Mr. Bigelow he would hold them until the last shipment, so that he might have a chance to get them for the city. In the meantime W. L. Jones and other members of the Sons of the American Revolution called on Col. Arnold and were also told how to proceed to get the guns.

Second Call on The Gazette.

When Mr. Bigelow heard that the society wanted the guns for the museum he dropped the matter. The society tried to reach Congressman Dalzell, but he was in the Adirondack woods, Senator Quay was in Florida and the secretary of war was sick in New York. The Gazette was then called on to save the guns if possible, and a telegram was at once sent by Mr. G. T. Oliver to Senator Quay in Florida, with the result that orders were issued from the war department to Col. Arnold not to ship the trophies until further notice. Had The Gazette not found the hidden guns, and had not its influences with Senator Quay been secured, the guns would now have been lost in Watervliet arsenal.

Lindsay a Lieutenant-Colonel.

William T. Lindsay, clerk of the United States district court, was yesterday appointed by Gov. Stone to be aid-de-camp with the rank of lieutenant colonel on the staff of the commander-in-chief of the national guard, Pennsylvania. Col. Lindsay has been for a number of years connected with the district court as assistant clerk and as clerk, and is exceedingly popular with bench and bar. Col. Lindsay said yesterday that he was much surprised by the appointment, as he had not been consulted, but that he appreciated the honor and would forward his acceptance immediately.

Thomas Campbell Bushnell Dead.

NEW YORK, May 23.—(Special.)—Thomas Campbell Bushnell, one of the directors of the Standard Oil Company, died at his home in Morristown, N. J., today. He had been ill for two months. Mr. Bushnell was born in Pittsburgh, in September, 1842. At the outbreak of the civil war he volunteered at the tempting age of 18 and served until its close. Then he went to the Pennsylvania oil fields, where he engaged in business in 1868. Later he moved to Philadelphia, where he was connected with the firm of Warren, Scharf & Co., which in 1872 moved to this city and later was absorbed by the Standard Oil Company. He was a member of the Union League club, Morristown, the St. Moritz Country Golf club, and a trustee of the Washington Association of New Jersey. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

MARTINIQUE RELIEF FUND HAS CLOSED

Local Contributions Were $33,407 30. Sheraden Sufferers Have Now Been Contributed $8,500.

The committee having in charge the Martinique fund issued the following statement yesterday afternoon:

To the Citizens of Western Pennsylvania:

As members of the local committee appointed by the president of the United States to collect funds for the sufferers of the Martinique and St. Vincent disaster, we desire to report that in compliance with the request of the president we proceeded to receive subscriptions which have amounted to $33,407 30. This amount, in accordance with our instructions, has been forwarded to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer. We are in receipt of the following telegram:

New York, May 22.

A. J. Logan and H. C. Frick,
Committee, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Committee may forward balance now in hand and will please suspend further collections for West Indian relief fund.

CORNELIUS N. BLISS,
Treasurer.

Having completed our work the committee desires to thank the subscribers for their prompt and generous subscriptions. Respectfully,

H. C. FRICK,
A. J. LOGAN,
Committee.

The Sheraden relief fund was considerably increased yesterday by a subscription of $745 50 received last night by the local committee from employes in the general offices of the Panhandle and Fort Wayne railroads. The total amount of the fund in charge of the Sheraden committee is $8,925 50. Other sources swell the fund to about $8,500.

TEACHERS JUDGES OF SCHOOL PUNISHMENT

Supt. Samuel Andrews Does Not Approve of Harsh Measures, but Upholds Right of Instructor.

Prof. Samuel Andrews, superintendent of Pittsburgh's schools, said yesterday in regard to recent cases of assault and battery in the county courts against schoolteachers by the parents of children whom they have attempted to correct for disobedience and insubordination:

"The law does not state the punishment that can be administered to a pupil, nor do the rules of the central board of education, but the teachers have been held by the courts to be in loco parentis, or in other words the teacher acts in the capacity of the parent, and has the right to inflict reasonable punishment.

"The central board of education leaves the matter of punishment entirely to the discretion of the teachers and principals of the schools, but always advises kindness and firmness when such means can be employed. I have known cases, however, where corporal punishment was absolutely necessary. The pupils must obey the rules of the school, otherwise the school-teacher would not be respected and the authority over the scholars would amount to nothing.

"I must uphold the teacher who will enforce the rules for maintaining order and discipline. I do not wish to be understood as advocating unreasonable punishment. The pupils can be given corporal punishment within reason, if they deserve it in the opinion of the teacher or principal, but it is very seldom necessary with well-trained teachers."

M. Wilson Stewart, secretary to Prof. Samuel Hamilton, county superintendent, when asked concerning the rules in regard to corporal punishment in the county schools, said:

"There are but few rules issued to the teachers and principals of the county schools in regard to the punishment of pupils. Where corporal punishment is found necessary the general custom is for the teacher to report the case to the principal and he deals with the offender.

"There is no statute or binding rule of court in regard to corporal punishment in this state, but the courts have always upheld the control of teachers over the pupils."

VOTING CLOSES AT MIDNIGHT, JUNE 7.

This BALLOT cut from The Pittsburgh Gazette of SATURDAY, May 24, 1902, if received at our office before MIDNIGHT OF JUNE 7, Counts ONE VOTE for SERIES L VOTE.

Name.....

School.....

Town..... County.....

For the EUROPEAN TOUR tendered to 25 most popular School Teachers by

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE and CHRONICLE TELEGRAPH.

Send all ballots to Excursion Department, Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. Ballots not legibly filled out will not be counted. Last ballot will be printed May 31, 1902. Ballots from Sunday Gazette count three votes.

ALL BALLOTS MUST BE IN BY MIDNIGHT, JUNE 7.

NO ONE CAN GUESS THE WINNERS.

Soon the teachers' contest for the grand tour of Europe will close. No person knows who will be the winners, but everyone wants to know. The important announcement can be made soon after June 7, if our friends will be prompt about sending in their ballots. Some of them are. They are sending in as fast as they get them. To such we are duly grateful. Some appear to be holding back. We hope they will not continue that policy. If all will send in their ballots of the two series, K and L, every two or three days, the enumerators will be able to keep right up with the work of counting. Then, when the voting closes, the totals can be speedily footed up and the winners announced. The motto now should be to "vote early and often," and it is no more difficult than to accumulate huge bundles of ballots before voting at all.

PITTSBURGH GIRL MAKES STAGE DEBUT

Miss A. Florence Fagan of Pittsburgh has made a successful debut upon the stage in New York. She graduated from Byron W. King's School of Dramatic Art six or seven years ago. While a pupil there she displayed considerable ability. She went to New York and graduated this spring from the Stanhope-Wheatcroft school, her initial appearance was made at the Madison Square theater as "Jean," in "The Water Color," and she scored a success. Miss Fagan is recalled at the King school as a fine looking, talented girl.

MACHINE WORK TO BE REPEALED IN DUE TIME

Ordinances Rushed Through as Old Councils Were Dying Will Be Overhauled Shortly.

The reform element of city councils has secured a list of the machine legislation that was hurried through the old councils at special meetings held during the two weeks before it passed out of existence. These measures are to be repealed. The reform element is especially interested in repealing the increases in salary that were hurried through.

"Some of these increases," said Councilman Thomas M. Brown yesterday, "were totally unnecessary. We have a list of much legislation that was hurried through which we think ought to be repealed, and which will be repealed as soon as we can get time to prepare repealing ordinances. Some were for salary increases which were unwarranted and unnecessary. The whole question of salaries is sure to come up sooner or later. One branch of the city government is paying more for a certain class of work than any other branch, and all these inequalities must be remedied."

LUNCHES ON THE FRENCH WARSHIP

republic, which had set the example of popular liberty not only for France, but for the whole world."

In proposing the health of President Roosevelt, Ambassador Cambon said that in extending the invitation to the chief magistrate of the United States he wished to emphasize the fact that he was acting as the direct and personal representative of President Loubet of the French republic.

President Roosevelt replied in his happiest vein, though speaking with unusual deliberation, as though he measured every word he uttered. He ended by proposing a toast to President Loubet.

Gen. Brugere followed with a felicitous speech, concluding with a toast to the memories of Rochambeau and Washington, which was drunk standing, as were all the toasts.

Secretary of War Root delivered a brief but happy address in which he reminded his hearers that the Gauls1s then rested on the same waters which washed the shores of Yorktown. In conclusion he offered this pretty toast: "I drink to the army of France, ever faithful and gentle in friendship, ever fearless and gallant in war."

The Admiral's Address.

Admiral Fournier followed with an appropriate address in which he dwelt upon the high esteem existing between the French and American navies, and proposed a toast to Mr. Roosevelt and the presidential household.

Secretary of the Navy Moody delivered a brief but vigorous address, in which he dwelt upon the fact that the French fleet had never visited America except upon a friendly mission.

Ambassador Cambon concluded the speechmaking by again arising and dwelling upon the chivalrous character of the American people. "I now propose a toast," said he, "to Mrs. Roosevelt, the first lady of the land," a proposition which elicited a most enthusiastic response.

The company then arose and the president, accompanied by his daughter and Secretaries Root and Moody and their wives and Mrs. Lodge and a few others, repaired to his launch, which was in waiting. As he proceeded to the Dolphin, which was laying nearby, to take him to Annapolis, a salute of 21 guns was fired.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Great Medicine Cures Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Nephritis and Albuminuria.

Thousands of people suffer through a living death from some form of kidney disease. In the majority of cases, the poor sufferers have been informed by physicians that there is no hope.

If you are a victim of kidney disease, take courage, dear sufferer! There is a mighty saving agent that you have not yet called to your aid; it is Paine's Celery Compound. This grand medical prescription has conquered as desperate cases as yours; it has power to pluck you as a brand from the burning, if you have but the faith to give it a trial.

You may perchance ask, "What will Paine's Celery Compound do for me, that other medicines have failed to accomplish?"

Paine's Celery Compound will accomplish vastly more for you in your distress than you can imagine. Its first great vital undertaking is the purification of the life stream from waste matter, the result of decomposition of the tissues. It will remove all morbid materials, saving you from uraemic poisoning, which so often proves fatal in kidney disease.

In addition to all this Paine's Celery Compound will establish nerve force and new nerve fiber; it will nourish the weakened system and restore the full vital functions of the kidneys.

If you value life, delay not the use of Paine's Celery Compound a single hour. Your present critical condition demands the immediate use of this great life saver.

Emma Doty of Red Buttes, Wyo., saved by Paine's Celery Compound from fatal kidney disease, writes as follows: "I had a terrible pain in my side owing to kidney troubles. I could hardly lie down; but that trouble has all left me through the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Last spring I had mountain fever and was sick a long time; since taking Paine's Celery Compound I am strong. I feel very grateful for your medicine. I am glad to say anything that would encourage people to use it."

Our special price, 35c a yard.

Kodaking.

Decoration Day—and no kodak! You'd be in a fix, to be sure.

Come right along to our Kodak department and look over the complete line of Eastman goods. They're standard.

The snap shots you take Decoration Day you can bring to us for developing, printing and mounting. Doesn't take us long to do the work.

Outdoor Games.

You can class Ping-Pong as an outdoor game—place the table on the lawn or porch. Everything for playing P.-P.

The Game from $1 to $10.
The Tables from $13.50 to $15.

All the requisites for other outdoor games. Fit you out completely for playing Baseball, Tether Ball, Croquet and Lawn Tennis—Golf, too.

A Bit of Jacket News.

New 19-inch tan covert Jackets just in the department—the shapeliest kind of little jacket—finished with velvet collar and turn-back cuff. Fly front effect. $9 is the price.

Etons of black moire—$10 for the grade we sold for $12.50. Have turn-down collar, vest and bottom finished with band of peau de soie. This style has small bell-shaped sleeve and is lined with black taffeta.

A Brief Reference to Men's Summer Weight Underwear.

The lightest possible texture—that is the result of our best endeavors to please men. There are lots of novelties, for we are continuous importers of novelties.

Take Swiss Ribbed Undergarments, the lightest weight undergarments possible to weave. The ribbed feature makes them close fitting, just what is wanted. Shirts with sleeves, shirts with only quarter sleeves.

White Cotton ..$1.00 and $1.50 each
White Lisle .....$2.00 each
White, blue, pink and gray silk .....$2.25 each
Knee Drawers in white lisle thread .....$2.50 pair

As a bit of news we may add that we are direct importers of this Swiss Ribbed Underwear, and that it cannot be bought elsewhere in Western Penna.

Other excellent Summer grades of medium to finest Underwear made are French Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2 each.

"Bachelor" Balbriggan Shirts, made without buttons, pull over the head like sweaters, and knee Drawers of same material, $1 each.

I. & R. Morley's English white lisle thread Undershirts—half sleeves—$1 each; Balbriggan, 56c each; gauze, 50c each.

The finest hand-made Underwear that money can buy is that of the London firm of Allen, Solly & Co. We are the firm's representative in Western Penna. Carry their several grades in Balbriggan, gauze, silk and wool.

NEW SOCKS—All the best kind—neat patterns to wear with oxfords. Embroidered and striped effects, 25c, 35c, 50c a pair and up; lace effects, 50c a pair.

NEGLIGEE SHIRTS—Madras, Oxford, Linen, Flannel—white and all colors—plain and pleated bosoms—attached and detached cuffs. Beginning with $1 for our "Staghead" Madras Shirt and by easy range to $4 for the hand-made Paris Shirts.

Men who are addicted to either the "Manhattan" or "Star" Negligee Shirts will find practically an endless variety here. $1.50 to $3 each.

Lots of white Madras, Oxford and Linen, and no amount of white with color, but white is the thing.

JOHN WANAMAKER

New York Merchant Tailoring.

One of the sorrows that come with a light weight suit is the sloppy sagging that use brings. Unless the tailoring is right the thin material will stretch sadly out of shape. THE JOHN WANAMAKER NEW YORK MERCHANT TAILORING puts every possibility of "stay-there" even into the filmiest of stuff. The dressy man thinks of these things before the day of trouble comes.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

COLUMBUS, O.—Six children were poisoned Thursday night by drinking milk that had been treated with formaline. Yesterday morning they were pronounced out of danger.

WOOSTER, O.—Harry Betts of Homestead, Pa., was released by the police yesterday after spending the night under suspicion of being wanted at Newark for horse stealing.

CHARLEROI, PA.—Mrs. Rebecca Jane Mancha, 72 years old, was found dead yesterday morning. The cause of death is unknown. She is survived by two sons and a daughter.

PETROLIA, PA.—Mrs. David L. Kaylor, the wife of a farmer living east of here, was burned to death Thursday night. While starting a fire with a can of kerosene the can exploded.

SHARON, PA.—Frank Snyder, postmaster and stofekeeper at Weldon, a few miles west of here, is reported as mysteriously missing since Tuesday. His accounts are said to be correct.

ROCHESTER, PA.—Herman Klark, whose home is in Dunbar, Pa., was drowned in the Beaver river at this place yesterday. He was a member of a theatrical company showing here this week.

SPRINGFIELD, O.—The storm that swept over this neighborhood Thursday night picked up Elmer Welsh and P. F. Donnelly, who were driving near Urbana, and landed them 500 feet away in a cornfield. The horse was killed and the buggy demolished.

He will come to this city to accept the position of assistant cashier of the Westmoreland National bank.

TAYLORS MUST GO TO PRISON

Ohio State Pardon Board Refuses Clemency to Aged Woman and Daughter.

THE TESTIMONY CONCLUSIVE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., May 23.—The state board of pardons at its meeting tonight unanimously refused a pardon to Mrs. Frances L. Taylor and her daughter Frances, who were committed to the penitentiary from Hamilton county to serve sentences of one year for complicity in the kidnaping of little Margaret Taylor, now returning from Italy with her father.

Mrs. Taylor is 70 years old and her daughter 43. They are related to several of the most prominent families in Ohio, among them the Hon. Henry C. Taylor, judge advocate on Gov. Nash's staff. They have been at Mr. Taylor's home since they were reprieved by the governor on May 1. The reprieve expires June 1, and, since the governor always follows the recommendation of the pardon board, they will begin their sentences at that time.

Margaret Taylor, a daughter of A. V. T. Taylor of Cincinnati, was found in the possession of her aunt, Clara Taylor, in a little town in Italy three weeks ago. Clara Taylor is now in prison, awaiting extradition to the United States.

The board's verdict in the case states: "The testimony is clear that the applicants conspired with Clara Taylor to take the child out of the state, and entirely and permanently away from her parents, and that they maintained that conspiracy by withholding all knowledge from the father and mother and from the public."

Husband's Brutal Treatment Results in Death of Mrs. Bowell

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BOWELL.

Mrs. Helen Bowell died yesterday morning from injuries inflicted by her husband, John Bowell, a steelworker. Mrs. Bowell died in the house of her mother, Mrs. Julia Parvin, on the river bank at Brown's station in the city limits. She had been removed there from her home in Munhall.

Mrs. Bowell's husband was employed at the Carnegie steel works in Homestead. He was a hard drinker and was known among his fellow workmen as "Jack the Ripper," on account of his ugly and quarrelsome disposition. On April 30 Bowell went home from work drunk and beat his wife so that she had to take to her bed. On the following day he beat her again, and on Saturday night dragged her out of bed, choked her and kicked her into insensibility. Their 9-year-old girl Ethel and Julia, 4 years old, witnessed the beating. On Sunday, May 4, Bowell loafed about the house, and on Monday drew his wages and disappeared. Mrs. Samuel McIntosh, a neighbor, was the last person who talked to him.

Mrs. Parvin was told of her daughter's condition and a week ago she was removed to her mother's home. She died at 2:15 a. m. yesterday. J. J. Flannery, the undertaker, notified Coroner McGeary, and the body was removed to the morgue, there being no facilities at the house for holding a post-mortem examination, which was completed at the morgue by Drs. Blessing and Boggs.

The child, Julia, says that her father dragged her mother out of bed and that when she cried out, "Papa, don't hurt mama!" Bowell knocked her across the room and then proceeded to kick his wife.

DON'T BE A PIONEER.

Pioneering is all right if you have time to sit down and wait for developments. But what's the use?

The man who buys a lot in a way-off plan without improvements or conveniences, MAY win out in a lifetime—but the chances are against it.

GLENWOOD LOTS

Are worth the money NOW—and are growing more valuable every day. The Glenwood Land Co's. plan fronts on Second Avenue—Renova street runs through it from end to end, bringing even the farthest away of the lots within two minutes of the Electric Cars.

The streets are paved and sewered—City water pipes are laid—stone sidewalks are down—Lots are level and smooth—All ready for building—The surroundings are high class in every particular. In fact the Glenwood Plan is located in the heart of the city's most picturesque residence district.

20 Minutes from the Court House.

The Glenwood Plan is reached by the United Traction Co.'s Second Avenue lines, and is only 20 minutes' ride from the Court House.

It is also convenient to the B. & O. R. R.—and within easy walking distance of mills and factories giving employment to 15,000 to 20,000 men.

It is an ideal home spot—and an investment of unusual promise.

Values are advancing very rapidly in this district.

Yet the Prices Are Low.

Remember, when buying a lot in the Glenwood Plan, you are not getting simply a section of somebody's farm—

But a lot in the very midst of the city, with fine homes all around and all city conveniences and improvements, already paid for.

You'll find here beautiful, level lots At $400, At $500, At $540, At $600, At $635, At $650, At $720, At $790, At $830, At $990,

And a few very choice frontages on Second avenue and Glenwood avenue at $3,900 and $4,000.

EASY PAYMENTS IF YOU WISH

Representatives at the plan every day and until 8 o'clock in the evening. Stop and see the property. Don't buy unless you are convinced that the Glenwood plan is the biggest value you have ever been offered for your money.

CHANGES PROPOSED IN THE RAILROAD CLUB

TO HAVE LAKE COAL AND ORE ALL THE YEAR

On Account of Lake Michigan Ferries Being Open Wabash Will Have Great Advantage.

Much interest is shown by Pittsburgh coal and iron men in the acquisition of the Ann Arbor road by the Wabash. One point which has been brought out is that the shipment of coal to the northwest by this route will not be stopped in the winter as it is now when navigation closes on Lake Erie. An official of the Wabash says: "The ferries are not closed at all except perhaps for a day or two when ice clogs the ferry slips. The purchase of the Ann Arbor and its operation in connection with a big system that taps the coal districts and connects with Pittsburgh, means a great deal. First of all, it means that instead of rushing coal to lake ports during the open season, and sending it that way to the upper northwest it can be sent at any time during the year. There will be less reason for the chronic scarcity of coal cars and it will give an opportunity to relieve the congestion. Millions of tons of coal have to be moved to the lakes and millions of tons of ore brought back all in seven months, but this can be relieved since these ferries are open all the year around."

Advantage has not been taken of this heretofore for the reason that the line was not an integral part of a system interested in the hauling of ore and coal, and reaching the district that supplies the coal and consumes the ore. With the Wabash owning the line it will change the situation entirely.

CONTRACTS FOR BRIDGES.

New Lucius Company Has One at Clairton and One at Marietta.

The West Penn Construction Company is being organized as the Lucius Construction Company, with nominal capital of $10,000. The officers will remain as now: W. W. Lucius, president, and E. C. Lucius, secretary and treasurer. This company has taken a sub-contract for the construction of a new bridge across the Monongahela river at Clairton, to link the terminal system of the Crucible Steel Company with the railroads on either side of the river. The bridge is to cost about $600,000. The Lucius company is to start work next Monday on a cantilever bridge, 2,500 feet long, over the Ohio river at Marietta. The channel span will be 680 feet long.

B. & O. Plans Big Improvement.

Within the next few days contracts will be let in Baltimore for improvements at Connellsville and Fairmont that will cost $1,250,000. At Connellsville, which has been recently made a divisional terminal, yards with a capacity of 3,300 cars will be constructed, with a 22-stall roundhouse, machine, blacksmith and boiler shops, coal trestle, electric power plant and other ward accessories. The Connellsville improvements will cost $800,000.

At Fairmont also a 22-stall roundhouse will be built and the yards will be enlarged to hold 2,000 cars. The Fairmont work will cost $400,000.

For the main line other work, which will cost several millions of dollars, has been contracted for. The most expensive part of this is between Cherry run and Harpers Ferry, W. Va., where a new route for through east bound freight trains is being constructed.

W. C. BROWN,
New Third Vice President of the New York Central.

Pennsy to Have New Sunday Trains.

The Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh and the Pennsylvania railroad issued yesterday formal announcements of the time-card changes which will go into effect tomorrow. The most noticeable feature is the large increase of local Sunday trains, both east and west. On the Pennsylvania railroad Sunday service will be given the Indiana division, and the Sunday service on the Monongahela division will be extended to West Brownsville. Between Leetsdale and Pittsburgh, on the Ft. Wayne, a new Sunday train is added, with three new Sunday trains between Allegheny and Leetsdale, and one from Allegheny to Beaver Falls. On the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle trains Nos. 34 and 35 will run daily instead of week-days only, between Pittsburgh and Dennison. Also new Sunday trains will be established between Dennison and Columbus.

THE BREAKFAST CUP

Can Bring Joy or Trouble.

Change in food and drink will sometimes make over even elderly people and restore them to natural health.

A man of 70 writes that at the age of 60 he began to break down and was a partial invalid until 67, when he concluded that coffee was one of the prime causes of his sickness and began using Postum Food Coffee in its place with Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food and some fruit at his meals.

He says: "Now at the age of 70 I am as strong and hearty as I was at 50. I would not go back to my old mode of living for a hundred thousand dollars."

This man was a pioneer in Illinois in 1837, later on was an early settler in North Dakota. He requests that his name shall not appear in print. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE PRESENT BODY MAY BE DISBANDED

Many Members Favor a Change in Its Ultimate Plans With More Social Features.

It is probable that an important change in the organization of the Pittsburgh Railroad club, composed mainly of passenger and freight agents, will be made. The exact form of change has not been determined, but one plan that may favor is to change the name from "club" to "association" and to give up entirely the original plan of securing a building or rooms for a permanent home.

A meeting was called for last evening, but owing to the small attendance nothing final could be transacted. It is claimed that the quarterly smoker, banquet or outing which has been the main features of the club's existence for a year and a half, is the most practicable means of bringing the men into closer personal acquaintance. Under the new association these features will be retained and developed.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

A Sale That Is Attracting Widespread Attention.

One of the events of the season, and one in which women will be specially interested, is a sale at the well-known Drug House of Jos. Fleming & Son, 410 and 412 Market Street, of High-Class Fountain Syringes at a fraction of their regular price. When you can buy a 2-quart for 25c, a 3-quart for 35c and a 4-quart for 50c, all complete with pipes and five feet of tubing, you can rest assured such bargains will not go begging. By mail costs 12 cents extra.

PIANOS

What Are the Best?

In the very nature of the case—old things pass away; change and decay are the law. Men who made great reputations for their pianos in their day, died long years ago; others buy their factories and, human-like, wish to trade on the reputation made by the men who were piano makers. The new owners, with little knowledge of the business, see only dollars, not merit, and so degenerate into making what are called "Commercial Pianos," and thus step by step descend into the grave of oblivion.

New champions arise, taking up the art where the former left off. These new men, with high ideals, carry forward to perfection the art divine. The old artists did well in their day and generation. The new men with all the modern advances in machinery—in art and science; discarding old, worthless methods and theories to which many old houses cling. These new, virile men—quick in mental operation, discriminating in judgment, intelligent, brought up in the piano manufacturing trade—with ample capital, brain alert—in touch with the demands of the age we live in, with high ideals and exalted, but practical aims, is it any wonder that the old yields to the new or comparatively new?

Is it any wonder, therefore, that the

are taking the highest place in the music and art world, in the great musical centers and among the most cultured classes in the great cities?

Little wonder, indeed, because the A. B. Chase Pianos represent all that was worth saving from the old methods, and for twenty years have steadily advanced in all new and improved methods, worthy of adoption.

The A. B. Chase Pianos are the Best Product of the Piano makers' art in America today. Ask any intelligent, fair-minded musician whose judgment is not warped by the bribe of a big commission or subsidized by loans of money or use of instruments or other forms of prejudice—and every one will admit that in all the musical essentials—quality and durability, the A. B. Chase Pianos are unequaled by any other make of Piano; and another great factor which commends them to the favor of intelligent people is that they are sold at fair, moderate prices; selling their product at from $100 to $500 less than some old firms who are burdened with heavy commissions and other abnormal and unwise methods such, for instance, as hiring some great Pianist to exploit their wares—in concert, a few especially fine pianos, made to show off in public at an added expense of from $100 to $200 on each piano they make—not one cent of which expense has gone to improve their product—only to exploit it. Note—"Paderewski sailed the other day with $125,000; results of last concert tour," etc.

A. B. Chase Piano Co. spare neither money, time, effort nor genius to improve their pianos in even the smallest details. They never squander a dollar in wasteful exploitation. That's why the A. B. Chase Pianos are the best in the world, and add at such moderate prices as to make them the wonder and surprise of the entire trade.

Next to the A. B. Chase the J. & C. Fischer is the nearest approach to this high standard of excellence. The same methods have produced similar results in many particulars—and even more moderate prices. In the interest of the truest musical art and for the benefit of all true lovers of the best in the Piano art world, whether you are rich or in moderate circumstances, we say

But either an A. B. Chase or a J. & C. Fischer Piano. You can see and examine them at

A Word to Bookkeepers, Clerks, Office Men

Who want to rise above the ranks to executive positions of large responsibility instead of simply drifting like the great majority and growing old as poorly paid subordinates.

What are the general requirements for the executive positions to which large salaries are attached?

The basic requirement, all authorities agree, is a well-trained mind, broadened by a liberal education.

Without a first-class general education it is hopeless to expect to rise noticeably above the crowd.

It is useless to point to some of the conspicuously successful and say they are examples of success without education. Such men are usually better educated than those who have passed through universities. Their force of character made them home students while training at the same time in the practical school of life—a combination which is seen to win on every hand against mere university-acquired equipment.

If you really aspire to conspicuous advancement, the question whether you are regularly and conscientiously a home student is one of very first importance.

Have you considered it thoughtfully, earnestly? Don't you see that you must devote much of your spare time to mental improvement if you are to reach the goal of your ambition?

If you are not already pursuing regular courses of study, let us urge you to connect at once with the Home Study Circle Correspondence School, and take advantage of the splendid facilities it offers to the home student.

If you will fill out and mail the accompanying coupon full particulars will be furnished you promptly, or send in your name and address by postal.

No expense is incurred by students except for necessary text-books, all of which are embraced in the Home Study Circle Library. Tuition, lesson outlines on all courses, special assistance by mail—all are free.

Should you not act at once? Read this statement from H. H. Tate, of Campbell, Texas:

"Though I am engaged in a business which comes as nearly occupying all my time as any vocation would, I still have found ample time each day since receiving the Home Study Circle Library to glean some of the gems of knowledge from the volumes into which I have been directed by your thoroughly systematic study outlines. It is impossible for me to determine which volume is most interesting. It seems that each subject contains the very essence of the best things which have ever been spoken or written by the most eminent men of modern times in science, literature, music, art, etc. I regard my investment in the Library the best I could possibly have made."

Please forward the coupon at once, with name and address written plainly, and all details will be sent without delay.

CITIZENS PARTY OPENS CAMPAIGN IN ALLEGHENY

Crowd of Enthusiastic Northside Voters Listens to Political Speeches.

COUNTY OFFICIALS SCORED

Speakers All Promise That Allegheny Will Give a Large Majority for the Entire Citizens' Party Ticket This Fall—Headquarters Opened.

Several hundred Allegheny citizens gathered in Kenyon's hall, in Federal street, North Side, last evening to open formally the Citizens party campaign. Considering the extremely hot weather and the fact that the election is six months distant, the meeting was extremely large and enthusiastic.

City Chairman W. T. Bradberry in calling the meeting to order, said that the hall had been leased until April 1, 1903, and the rent paid in advance. Headquarters of the Citizens party will be opened in this building and the rooms will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. each day.

George H. Stengel and Charles S. Crawford of Pittsburgh were expected, but had engagements which prevented their attendance. M. R. Trauerman, C. G. Mendel, Stephen Porter and David B. Oliver made speeches. All predicted that the Citizens party would win in the county fight and gave reasons for the necessity of cleaning out the court house. The speakers were certain that the voters of Allegheny would give a majority against the machine.

Second Ward Strong.

Mr. Trauerman has been assisting in perfecting the organization of the Citizens party in the Second ward. He said that he was satisfied that 65 per cent of the voters of the ward would oppose the "organization" this fall.

Mr. Mendel has been at work in the Seventh ward, and says his constituents are prime for revolt against the "organization." He has not found a man who is opposed to assisting the Citizens. He said that the party would not stop with the county, but would clean out Allegheny city hall next spring. He said one could not get anything there unless one stood in with the leaders.

Mr. Mendel said he had had personal experiences at the court house which showed the necessity of a cleaning there. Some days ago he had business in the recorder's office. He accosted a clerk, who was reading a paper, and asked him to wait upon him. The man replied: "I am too busy; see that man over there." Mr. Mendel claims to have had similar experiences in other offices.

Stephen Porter, a lawyer of the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, made the charge that juries are manipulated in the interests of corporations. He says it is done every day, and that the poor man who brings a suit to recover damages for injuries done to a child by traction lines has slight show of securing justice.

Mr. Porter took up the subject of overcrowded street cars. He said that if the city officials were so disposed they could take the traction companies into court and compel them to give adequate service or suffer the loss of their franchises. He promised that when the Citizens came into control this would be done.

Another hit was made by Mr. Porter when he attacked the gas company for attempting to refuse patrons the use of natural gas for illuminating purposes. He said that if the municipal authorities were to go after the company this practice would soon be stopped. He also devoted some attention to the high tax rates in Allegheny.

Necessity for Change.

David B. Oliver prefaced his remarks with a few words about the public schools and urged upon the citizens to see that good men are elected as school directors. Then he took up the political condition existing in the state, county and city. Mr. Oliver said that he considered that there was much necessity for a change. In his opinion it was time to call the managers to account and rebuke them for mismanagement. He thought the organization of the Republican party had been put to improper uses and that it was necessary for the citizens to take steps to rectify wrongs.

In discussing the last legislature he told of this personal experience:

"I happen to be a member of the board of trustees of a charitable institution that receives private and state aid. Two winters ago it was burned down. Temporary provision was made for the inmates and after the insurance and other moneys were got together we found that we had $163,000 in cash. It required $300,000 to rebuild and furnish the institution. We decided by means of private subscriptions to increase the $163,000 to $200,000.

"We sent our president to Harrisburg to get an appropriation of $100,000. The committee gave him a favorable hearing, but after it had adjourned a man said to him: 'If you will agree to appropriate $10,000 to a certain official the bill will go through.' He refused, and the bill failed. Think of the institutions there are in the state and take 10 per cent off, and see the enormous sum which could be raised for debauching the public!"

Mr. Oliver then called attention to the fact that the original draft of the Rodgers charter called for the abolition of the delinquent tax office. He said Gov. Stone ran his blue pencil through this provision and the reform was knocked out. Attention was called to the fact that the office of delinquent tax collector is worth about $40,000 in Pittsburgh and $15,000 net in Allegheny.

NEW TIME TABLES.

Will Go Into Effect on the Pennsylvania Line Tomorrow.

The general semi-annual change in time of trains will take place on the Pennsylvania lines tomorrow, Sunday, the 25th inst. There will not be any changes in time of through trains in and out of Pittsburgh. No. 5, the Chicago Special, leaving Union station at 7:30 p. m., city time, will reach Chicago 25 minutes earlier, at 7:35 a. m. The Louisville sleeping car leaving Pittsburgh at 9:15 p. m., city time, on No. 5 over the Panhandle Route, will arrive Louisville at 10:05 a. m., considerably earlier.

Suburban trains will undergo some radical changes. A number of Ft. Wayne Route trains will arrive at and depart from Union station instead of Allegheny. New trains will be established between Pittsburgh and Carnegie, and the suburban service, Sundays and week days, will be greatly improved on both the Ft. Wayne and Panhandle Route. Full information about the changes may be obtained at City Ticket Office, corner Fifth avenue and Smithfield street; at Union station ticket office, and at Ft. Wayne station ticket office, Federal street, Allegheny.

ONLY ONE BULLET WOUND WAS FOUND

BODY OF EDNA VARNER WAS EXHUMED YESTERDAY.

Petrolia Physicians Admit They Were Wrong, After Second Autopsy—District Attorney John C. Haymaker Says He Has Strong Circumstantial Case.

The Petrolia physicians who reported that they had discovered three bullet wounds in the body of Edna Varner, the Avalon girl who is supposed to have been murdered, were convinced of their error yesterday after an examination of the remains, made by themselves, together with Dr. Walter C. McCandless, physician for the coroner, and two of the coroner's deputies.

The two Petrolia physicians, Drs. L. N. Andre and A. L. Hawe, were present at the examination. The body was exhumed at Collins cemetery, three miles from Petrolia, in Fairview township. Deputy Coroners J. P. Black and Charles Bender accompanied Dr. McCandless from Pittsburgh to Petrolia.

Dr. McCandless convinced Drs. Howe and Andre that one of the alleged bullet wounds was produced by the surgeon's trocar at the post-mortem and that the other was the result of an incision made by the undertaker. Both holes were on the right side of the body. The actual bullet wound was on the left side, as located by the physicians at the post-mortem.

Drs. Howe and Andre admitted their mistake and signed the following statement: "We, the undersigned, after a thorough examination, are satisfied that the wound in the left breast of Edna Varner was the only wound made by a bullet from a firearm."

Dr. McCandless and the coroner's deputies returned to the city last evening. Dr. McCandless stated that the condition of the body confirmed his report of the post-mortem. Deputy Coroner Bender stated that the marks on the deceased girl's throat, noticed at the post-mortem, were still visible.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker said he had explained the matter fully to the Petrolia physicians, but they were not satisfied and insisted that there were three bullet wounds. The district attorney said the result of the investigation confirmed what he had known to be a fact.

After receiving the formal reports of Dr. McCandless and the coroner's deputies, with the statement of Drs. Howe and Andre, District Attorney Haymaker will proceed with the prosecution of the case against Mrs. Eagle. He says he has a strong circumstantial case against her, but refuses to disclose the motive for the alleged murder.

He said, however, that jealousy would not be the motive the state would seek to prove. The operation, which the physicians declare was performed several weeks previous to the girl's death, is expected to figure prominently in the case.

OLD MAN DRANK LAUDANUM.

John Hughes, Aged 62, Found Dead In Sugar Camp.

The body of John Hughes, a machinist, was found in the "sugar grove," near Aspinwall, yesterday afternoon. Two bottles that had contained laudanum were by his side and in his coat pocket was a half-inch rope three feet long. Six cents and a memorandum book, containing the man's name and the address, No. 353 Alpine street, Allegheny, were found in his pockets.

Last night R. Whitely of Allegheny called at the morgue and identified Hughes, saying that about two years ago he had dragged the old man off the Pittsburgh & Western railroad tracks in Allegheny, where he had been thrown by a man who had struck him with a coupling pin and robbed him. Whitely had seen the assailant just before and with some citizens caused his arrest. He was held in $3,000 bail and that was the last heard of the case. W. A. Winter of Wilkinsburg also called at the morgue. He said Hughes had a son in Cleveland, and had been on a three months' spree. The number on Alpine street is the address of a man with whom Hughes formerly boarded.

MINERS STRIKE GIVES PROMISE OF A LONG RUN

All Rumors of Early Settlement Promptly Denied by Both Sides.

LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

Three District Presidents Meet With President Mitchell, Then Go Back to Seat of War—Work for Strikers to Be Had in Ohio.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 23.—It becomes more evident as each day passes that the great struggle between capital and labor in the hard coal field of Pennsylvania will be protracted and that only utter necessity is likely to force either side to weaken. Each day brings its crop of peace rumors only to be promptly denied by either side.

This was one of the dullest days around the miners' headquarters since the strike began. The three district presidents, Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy, held a long conference with National President Mitchell in the morning, after which the three district leaders left for their homes. The nature of the discussion was not divulged. President Mitchell said he had received no communications or overtures from any one that could in any way be construed as bearing on a settlement of the difficulty. Senator Hanna's name is invariably connected with every rumor that comes to headquarters for verification.

The only information received from the operators during the last 24 hours was the announcement that the receivers of the Haddock Coal Company, an individual concern, had instructed the company's superintendent to grant the demands of the engineers, firemen and pumpers. About 50 men are affected. The decision of the Haddock company will have no effect on the other companies.

President Mitchell denies the report that there was an unprecedent movement of soft coal into the anthracite territory.

D. M. Beatty of Barnhill, O., a miner employed by the Midvale and Goshen Coal Company, was one of Mr. Mitchell's callers today. He came east at the instance of his employers to get 150 striking anthracite miners to go to Ohio where steady employment will be given them. Soft coal miners are scarce. There are other agents in the region on a similar mission, but they are not meeting with much success.

SCRANTON, PA., May 23.—At a meeting of the mine workers district committee today, arrangements were made for the establishment of a labor bureau. Circulars will be sent broadcast in quest of employment for the strikers.

KILLED AT EASTON.

Trolley Accident on Steep Hill Results in Loss of Two Lives.

EASTON, PA., May 23.—Two men were killed and many men and women injured in a trolley wreck a few miles beyond Easton last midnight. The dead are: Edward Commodore of Nazareth and Joseph Derhammer of Easton.

The accident took place on a steep hill and was the result of the brakes refusing to work.

"Pe-ru-na is a Woman's Friend"

Tired Women, Run Down, Weary and Weak, Morning, Noon and Night.

A Grateful Girl's Letter to Dr. Hartman.

If one were to ask all the nervous, fretted, jaded, fagged-out women who work day after day, hardly able to keep on their feet—if a person were to ask them what their trouble was, one would say dyspepsia, another nervous prostration, another female weakness, and so on.

The fact is, however, that they nearly all have the same disease, and that disease is chronic catarrh.

Thousands of people have chronic catarrh and do not know it.

They realize that they are sick, but they do not suspect that their disease is chronic catarrh.

If they have catarrh of the stomach, they call it dyspepsia; if they have general catarrhal debility, they call it nervous prostration; if they have catarrh of the liver or kidneys, they say they are bilious or have kidney disease; and if they have catarrh of the pelvic organs they name it female weakness.

The truth is, all these organs are subject to catarrh, and the land is full of toiling women, half invalids, who have chronic catarrh in some stage or form of some of these organs.

Women from all parts of the United States bear testimony to the fact that Peruna cures female catarrhal diseases.

Mrs. Kate Mann, 806 Bathurst street, Toronto, Ont., Canada, Vice President of the Ladies' Aid Society, writes:

"I am pleased to give praise to Peruna for the blessed relief I found through its use.

"I suffered for years with backache and dragging down pains, and often had to go to bed and stay there when I was so busy that I could illy be spared. It was therefore a simple Godsend to me when Peruna was brought to my notice. Every day seemed to give me new life, and every day made me feel much better, and I promised myself if it cured me I would advocate it so that other suffering women should know of it.

"I have been in perfect health for one year. I enjoy work and pleasure because in such fine health, and no trouble seems too heavy for me to bear when I have good health.

"Peruna has simply been a household blessing and I will never be without it again." MRS. KATE MANN.

Miss Olive J. Fitts, 520 S. Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal., writes:

"About a year ago I was troubled with a severe attack of nervous debility and was reduced in flesh to skeleton-like proportions. My friends advised a change of climate and I went to Phoenix, Arizona, but received no permanent or even appreciable relief until I began the use of Peruna, recommended by a friend there.

"I took perhaps three bottles and am today well and hearty, but will not say how much I weigh for fear I might be called fat." OLIVE J. FITTS.

Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham, Treasurer Daughters of the Confederacy, and President Herndon Village Improvement Society, writes the following letter from Herndon, Fairfax county, Va.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Gentlemen—"I cannot speak too highly of the value of Peruna. I believe that I owe my life to its wonderful merits. I suffered with catarrh of the head and lungs in its worst form, until the doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again.

"I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and third bottle and kept on improving slowly.

"It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a king's ransom to me. I talk Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth."

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen:—"My experience with Peruna has been such that I am very glad indeed to be able to recommend it. About two years ago my health began to fail, I lost my appetite, had backache most of the time, and any over-exertion would keep me in bed for a week or more. I needed a good tonic to bring me back to health and strength, but I did not know which would be of benefit. Peruna was recommended as a woman's friend, and such it proved to be, for six bottles have been used and I am restored to health."

Best Time to Buy a Piano

Mellor's Sale a Golden Opportunity

Probably the majority of persons never expected to see the time when splendid pianos could be bought for so little money as now.

The Mellor sale at sacrifice prices has opened everybody's eyes and caused no end of talk. This old establishment is known to handle only the most dependable makes of instruments, headed by the noble Steinway, recognized throughout the world as the prince of pianos. It is the piano by which all others are measured.

The other instruments in the Mellor sale are fit companions for the Steinway, and include such well-known makes as the following: Krakauer, Sterling, Ludwig, Cameron, Cambridge, Chickering and a half dozen others.

The sale is really a "forced" one. The Farmers Bank building will adjoin the Mellor property, and as the excavating necessary for the foundations of the skyscraper has encroached on the Mellor foundations all the goods in the Mellor basement are being sold at this special clearance sale. They MUST be sold. There is nothing else to do under the circumstances. Hence these prices:

Second-Hand Square Pianos from $25 up
Second-Hand Uprights from $75 up
Shop-Worn Pianos from $135 up
Specimen Pianos from $165 up
Brand New Pianos from $175 up

The sale of small goods, in conjunction with the piano sale, is attracting wide attention. No such prices have ever before been known for musical goods like these:

Reductions in Guitars, Mandolins, Regina Music Boxes, etc.

MARTYRED DEAD TO BE HONORED FROM PULPITS

Sermons in Many Churches on Memorial Day Subjects.

EMINENT DIVINES HERE

Members of the United Presbyterian General Committee on Home Missions Will Preach to Many Local Congregations.

Tomorrow will be a notable day in the churches of the county. First comes the memory of the dead of the civil war. Nearly every church will revive the memories of the brave soldier dead of the union, and in many of them there will be special memorial services for particular posts of the G. A. R.

Again, there is the presence of that great body of the United Presbyterian church, the general committee of home missions. Each member of the committee will fill some pulpit or other. The Rev. George W. McCormick, chairman of the committee, will, as is usual on such occasions, preach in the committee church, which this year is the Bellevue United Presbyterian, of which the Rev. W. W. Lawrence is pastor.

In the Crafton Methodist Episcopal church the Rev. W. W. Youngson, pastor, will preach at both services on topics relative to Memorial day and its significance to American people. In the Duquesne Heights church of the same denomination the Rev. Harry M. Chalant, pastor, will preach in the evening to Col. W. H. Moody post, Grand Army of the Republic. His subject will be, "Woman's Work in the Civil War."

In the First Methodist Protestant church, South Side, the pastor, the Rev. J. A. Johnson, will preach to J. W. Patterson post, G. A. R. In the East End Presbyterian church, the Rev. Don't Experiment

It's quality you are after, not quantity. That is why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a Compound Concentrated Extract.

Don't experiment with cheap, bulky Sarsaparillas. Experiments are dangerous. Hold on to the kind that has been tested for over fifty years,—"Ayer's."

"As a druggist of 18 years' experience, I wish to say that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is, without doubt, the best Sarsaparilla."

Local News Of All Pittsburgh

Fifth in Volume of Bank Clearings. Fourth in Rank Among Cities. Area, Square Miles, 316.22.

Yesterday's Health Report—Six cases of scarlet fever, five of typhoid and one of smallpox were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Fell From a Brewery—Harry Shinton, a carpenter employed on the new brewery at Homestead, fell 20 feet yesterday and was badly injured.

Appeared in Summer Attire—The policemen appeared yesterday in the summer blouses and the letter carriers appeared without coats, as last year.

Crushed Under Wheels—J. W. Davis, a negro, fell from an open car at Penn avenue and Seventeenth street yesterday morning. One of his legs was crushed by the wheels.

Williams' Body Recovered—The body of W. H. Williams, 22 years of age, of Fleming Park, who was drowned on Thursday night, was recovered near Davis island dam yesterday.

Lowest Levy in County—Munhall has the lowest tax levy in the county. The council yesterday fixed it at 4½ mills. The school board is preparing to issue $70,000 of bonds for a school-house.

Stepped Off Wrong Way—Miss Roxie Jacobs of North Braddock stepped off a street car backward, near the corner of Penn and Frankstown avenues, yesterday afternoon and was badly bruised.

Bell Boy Fined for Theft—Ernest Asher, a negro bell-boy in the Hotel Henry, was fined $5 yesterday for petty larceny. It was charged that he had been picking up little things from the rooms of guests.

Thieves Had Sweet Tooth—The confectionery store of Singer Bros. at No. 31 Frankstown avenue, East End, was entered by thieves through a window yesterday morning and goods to the amount of $75 taken.

Used Poker on Wife's Head—Joseph Vavos of Natrona was committed to jail yesterday on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. It is alleged that on Wednesday he beat his wife over the head with a poker.

Arranging for Labor Day—The Labor day executive and financial committees will meet at the headquarters of the Pittsburgh miners' organization this afternoon to make further arrangements for the demonstration.

Run Over by Express Wagon—Thomas Wymard, 52 years of age, was knocked down and run over by an express wagon in Manhattan street, Allegheny, yesterday noon. One leg was broken and he was also hurt inwardly.

Injured by a Fall—Thomas James, a tinner, and William Morgan, a carpenter, working on the roof of a house in Lincoln place, were thrown 50 feet to the ground by the breaking of a scaffold yesterday and both were severely injured.

More Carpenters Organize—A. M. Swartz, business agent of the carpenters, last night organized a new local with 75 charter members, the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners. Another local will be organized at Kittanning Tuesday night.

Another Curtain Blaze—The wind blew curtains against a lamp in the residence of J. C. Slack, in Edgeworth, last night. There was great excitement, but members of the family tore down the curtains before anything else in the room caught fire.

Allegheny Recital—The five hundred and fifty-second Ecker organ recital will be held in Carnegie music hall, Allegheny, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The organist will be assisted by Mrs. Clorinda Longdon, soprano, and Miss Sadie Wheeler, elocutionist.

Braddock Commencement—The commencement of the Braddock high school will be on June 3. There are seven graduates, as follows: Olive Berlin, Mary Downey, Delia Doherty, Bessie Mills, Fannie Hamilton, Francis Rosenthal and Percy Bridges.

Died from Heart Disease—The verdict of the coroner's jury on the death of Clara McCullough, the negro domestic who dropped dead at the residence of W. H. McManus, No. 5816 Kentucky avenue, was that her death was the result of heart disease.

Clown Got the Worst of It—"Tommy" Bridges and a number of other boys were playing circus in Homestead and to make the performance appear like a real show in Homestead a boy threw a brick at the clown. It struck "Tommy" and fractured his skull.

Bird Catcher Came to Grief—Willie Smith, 10 years of age, of Homestead, climbed a telegraph pole yesterday in an attempt to catch a canary bird. His hand came in contact with a live electric light wire and he fell. One arm and one leg were fractured. The canary escaped.

Organizing the Plumbers—A representative of the Pittsburgh branch has spent the past week in Braddock, organizing a lodge of the plumbers' union. Most of them have consented to join, with but few exceptions, and it is thought the new lodge will be instituted early next week.

Theft of a Diamond Alleged—Reinold Griffith, aged 21 years, of No. 34 East Robinson street, Allegheny, is under arrest charged with being a suspicious person. He was arrested on complaint of two women of East Lacock street, who claim he stole a diamond ring and a lot of trinkets.

North Braddock Graduates—The commencement of the North Braddock high school will be on June 6. The graduating class is composed of Margaret Morgan, Bertha Hempel, Lelia McCarthy, Elizabeth McKim, Rose Barry, Ray Baldridge, John Hempel, John and Frank McNulty.

Woman Struck by Lightning—Mrs. William Bouden, wife of a farmer living near Murraysville, is lying at her home, paralyzed on her right side by a stroke of lightning received on Thursday night. Mrs. Bouden had gone to a door to close it, when the bolt struck her. Physicians say Mrs. Bouden will recover.

Arrested for Killing Birds—Albert Miller, aged 12 years, of Benton road, in Ross township, was yesterday afternoon before Alderman Walter Wadsworth on a charge of killing four birds on the farm of Joseph Biltman last Sunday. The information was made by Inspector J. N. Kidney of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society.

Closing of the Glass Houses—Most of the factories of the American and the Federation Glass companies will close today. Some of the factories of the Independent Glass Company, it is said, will close by June 1. President C. P. Cole of the Independent company says that most of the factories will continue during June.

Fails to Support His Children—William Johnston, a negro paperhanger, who has no permanent address, was arrested yesterday charged with the desertion and non-support of his four small children by Inspector James S. Bell of the Humane society. Johnston's wife died several months ago, leaving him with four daughters, ranging in age from 2 to 10 years.

Pitcairn Commencement—The commencement of the Pitcairn high school will be held in the Presbyterian church, Tuesday night, May 27. Following are the graduates: Emma F. Watters, Myra A. Shenefelt, Ida B. Haire, Earl W. Leslie, Walter D. Krink, Nelle A. Laughland, Frank J. Toohil. Hon. Levy McQuiston of Butler will deliver the address to the class.

To Establish a Miners' Camp—District President Patrick Dolan and other local officials of the miners, and William Little of the national executive board of the miners, left yesterday for Blairsville to establish a miners' camp in an effort to make the Allegheny Valley strike general. Tents and provisions have been forwarded and a brass band will aid the miners' leaders.

Will Be Hot Election—The bond election to be held in West Homestead today promises to be the liveliest election ever held in that borough. The liquor dealers are angry at the school board for having the election on a pay Saturday, which will mean a loss of several hundred dollars to the saloon men. They are using every means to defeat the issue of $30,000 in bonds for the erection of a new school building.

Locomotives Collided—Locomotives Nos. 32 and 40 of the Carnegie Steel Company were in collision at the Carrie furnaces, Rankin, last night. No. 32 escaped with but little injury, but No. 40 was made a complete wreck. Frank McCullough, engineer of 40, jumped. He was slightly hurt. His fireman, Harry Bryan, 22 years of age, of Munhall was badly injured about the head and body. He was sent to Mercy hospital. The crew of No. 32 were not injured.

Held for Mother's Death—Barney Heiser of No. 59 Troy Hill road, Allegheny, was yesterday held by the coroner's jury for the death of his mother. On May 5 Mrs. Rose Heiser, 74 years of age, was found at the foot of a flight of stairs. She said she had been pushed down by her son. She died in the hospital 11 days later. The son is now serving a 90-day sentence to the workhouse, on a charge of disorderly conduct. He will be arrested as soon as his time is up.

Stock Was Soon Subscribed—Just a few hours were required to subscribe the capital stock for the new Turtle Creek Savings & Trust Company that is to be established in Turtle Creek. The trust company is capitalized at $125,000. In footing up the totals, after the books were open for four hours, it was found that the subscriptions had run considerably over the amount. The company is formed principally of the stockholders of the Citizens Bank of Turtle Creek, which will be taken over by the trust company as soon as arrangements can be made.

Said to Have Killed Two—James Woods, a negro foreman on the Wabash work near Castle Shannon, was yesterday held for court on a charge of surety of the peace and pointing firearms. The charge was preferred by Willie Dalton, the negro cook at the camp. At the hearing she told Alderman W. F. Walsh that Woods was "a bad coon," as he killed a man last February at Isley City, Ala., and had killed a woman in Tennessee. Woods admitted killing a man at Isley City, but denied killing the woman in Tennessee. The authorities in Alabama have been notified of his arrest and asked if they want him.

Seeking Cause of Explosion—The inquests in the deaths of Adam Gazybowsky of No. 913 Pine alley and Bolish Andreasklewicz of No. 1009 Frederick street, killed in the gasoline explosion at No. 908 Winnebago street Monday, was commenced yesterday. William P. Roberts said water from the tank ran into a gasoline tank, sunk in the lot, causing it to overflow, and that the gasoline caught fire from a stove in the wrecked house. The inquest was continued until June 20. Both the water and gasoline tanks are owned by the United States Glass Company.

Will Issue $100,000 in Bonds—Dr William S. Stewart was last night elected a trustee of the Braddock school board to take the place of George F. House, resigned. The finance committee was instructed to arrange plans for the issuing of $100,000 in bonds for a new school in the First ward.

"It's Always the Same"

Said one of our patients this week, "and that's one thing I like about your dental work. When I get a tooth filled or have a gold crown put on one of my teeth, I know it will be done painlessly and lastingly—and for about one-half what I would have to pay other first-class dentists."

We hadn't thought of this feature as an advertisement before. Of course, getting the best materials, appliances and operators that can be had, is bound to make our dental work the best in the two cities. Remember, we try our Corrugated Suction teeth in the mouth on wax before finishing..... $10 per set

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap."

Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they not inferior?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion to save a few pennies?

Alum is used in some baking powders and in most of the so-called phosphate powders, because it is cheap, and makes a cheaper powder. But alum is a corrosive poison which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Payment for Every Franchise.

Chairman McNeil of the committee on corporations makes a bad argument in favor of granting a franchise to the City Electric Company without a specific provision for compensation to the city. There is nothing in the plea that a new corporation, taxed upon its gross receipts, cannot compete with another that is not so taxed. Experience teaches that public service corporations never really compete for business. They sometimes war with each other preliminary to making satisfactory working agreements, but any temporary advantage given the public during such conflicts the public is compelled to pay for later along.

When the late John Sherman was asked, in 1878, how the resumption of specie payments was to be effected he replied that the way was to resume. The same logic applies here. The way to establish the principle that public franchises are to be taxed is to tax them. There must be no conditions in any grant contingent upon the levy or acceptance of like charges upon any other franchise. That is merely a device for putting off the auspicious day when the people shall come into their own. Every new applicant for privileges should be required to pay for them, as two corporations now propose to do. Every old grantee of such privileges should be denied any extension, however small, until it agrees to pay a fair rate upon the franchises previously secured without making adequate return to the city.

No one disputes the justice of the demand that public service corporations shall pay for the immensely valuable privileges they enjoy. The only question is whether those in possession of free grants can be made to pay for them by any enactment of councils. That question will be decided affirmatively whenever councils refuse absolutely to make any new grant without specific public compensation. Contingent clauses are evasions.

Swallow and Stone.

The nomination by the Prohibition party of Pennsylvania of its former candidate for governor is at once a reminder of the approach of the campaign and a provoker of reminiscences. The strenuous preacher politician, Dr. Silas C. Swallow, received more than 125,000 votes for governor in 1898. In the previous year the Prohibitionist candidate for auditor general received 58,876 votes. Not even the most enthusiastic advocate of cold water and most vigorous opponent of John Barleycorn would venture to assert that Prohibition principles had received so large an increase of adherents within twelve months. Dr. Swallow's large support did not come from the Democrats. They had a candidate satisfactory to them, and he received more votes than the Democratic candidate for governor received in 1894. In that year the Republican candidate received 574,000 votes, but in 1898 the Republican strength was reduced to 476,000. It is easy to see where the Prohibitionist candidate got his support. It came from dissatisfied Republicans, who did not feel equal to the task of voting the Democratic ticket, but who were determined not to vote for Mr. Stone. Citizens of Pennsylvania have added to their knowledge of Gov. Stone since 1898, and the additional information is not favorable to him. The statistics of four years ago represent the dissatisfaction then felt. What would be the result if Gov. Stone's proxy were to be the party nominee this year?

One Relief Fund Closed.

The announcement that no more money is needed for the sufferers by the volcanic eruptions, and the consequent closing of the local relief fund, calls attention to Pittsburgh's prompt response to the appeal for aid. In the nine days that the fund was open the large sum of $33,434 80 reached the hands of the treasurer, a record unequaled by any other city in the United States. The response was prompt, as it was liberal, and doubtless many more thousands would have been subscribed had they been necessary. Unfortunately, the destruction of human life at St. Pierre was so complete that there was no suffering to relieve outside of the comparatively few persons who were rescued, and therefore the money contributed was devoted to the relief of districts where the havoc was much less complete. Brief as was the duration of the fund, the contributions were so generous that there was renewed proof of the spirit of charity that animates citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity in time of need.

The closing of the island relief fund furnishes an opportunity for the philanthropically inclined to extend further aid to the sufferers by the disaster at Sheraden. When the full extent of their need has been made known the money required will doubtless be forthcoming, for there never has been a worthy appeal for aid to which Pittsburgh did not respond.

The Business Situation.

The average farm value of the wheat crops during the past three years was $350,000,000, of corn $650,000,000, of oats $200,000,000 and of cotton $312,000,000. Thus the four crops, in normal seasons, add approximately $1,500,000,000 annually to the nation's wealth. These few figures furnish the reason for the interest taken by all grades of business men, from the small merchant to the great manufacturer, in the condition of the crops. International bankers are also interested in the prospective yield, because it has an important bearing upon their operations. Last year the corn crop was 700,000,000 bushels short, and the effect was to practically shut this cereal out of foreign markets. A year ago the exports were running about 2,500,000 bushels a week. During the past five months they have averaged less than 200,000 bushels a week. The falling off has affected international exchanges and reduced our trade balance, forcing exports of gold when imports would otherwise have been probable.

The present is one of the critical periods on the farm, and naturally much attention is given to crop news. The weather this week has been favorable for wheat and pasturage, and also for the planting of corn, which is late, owing to the backward spring, and the effect has been encouraging in business circles. Grain market values have declined, wheat selling off in the face of exports aggregating 5,840,000 bushels, the largest amount sent abroad during any week of this year. Security values advanced, particularly for shares of railroads traversing the agricultural section. It is estimated that the acreage of corn planted this year will surpass all previous totals, and business men generally feel that with an abundant harvest the country will be assured at least another year of prevailing prosperity.

There has been no change in the industrial situation. The anthracite coal miners are still idle, but no addition has been made to their ranks, and there is still hope that the troubles will be adjusted before they have had time to seriously affect trade dependent upon the industry. No new features have appeared in the iron market, which continues active and firm.

Improvement is noted in money market conditions. Rates for call loans have declined to the level usual at this season, and sterling exchange rates have also declined, so that no gold has been exported. There has been an advance in foreign government securities, based upon the expectation of the early declaration of peace in South Africa, which would not only be immediately followed by a resumption of gold mining in the Transvaal, but by the work of repairing the ravages of war. No one can form any adequate conception of the widespread effects of the South African war, but some idea is conveyed by the statement that manufactured products ordered in Pittsburgh just before the outbreak of hostilities, and which should have been delivered more than a year ago, still remain in the storage yards of the manufacturers.

Allegheny Joins the Chorus.

Recorder Murphy's assurance that Allegheny City will join in the Greater Pittsburgh reception to President Roosevelt and celebration of Independence day is an additional guarantee of the complete success of the occasion. The various municipalities that make up the greater city are so closely associated in geographical, social and business relations, and have so much in common besides the patriotic sentiment that causes the Fourth of July to be singled out for observance that it is the natural thing for Pittsburgh, Allegheny, McKeesport, Braddock and all the boroughs and townships to assemble as one people to give a hearty welcome to the chief magistrate of the nation and thus prove that artificial boundaries have no influence to limit the pervasive unity of the whole. The people of the Greater Pittsburgh are one in their welcome to the coming guest as they are one in interest and one in purpose, even if not united in one municipal corporation. The time is coming when they will be that as well.

Parks Made Comfortable.

Practical activity should follow promptly upon the visit to the parks of the councils committee. Shelter houses, public comfort buildings, restaurants and music pavilions have been planned. They cannot be erected too quickly. Pittsburgh has a splendid array of parks, but up to the present they might be described as barren idealities. Except in the matter of roadways, bridges and planting they are unimproved. The need of the improvements now proposed has been felt by every one of the thousands who have visited the parks since they were opened, and it is not creditable that the city has been so dilatory in providing them. It has been a reproach to the municipality.

The cheerful prospect for the future, however, is more pleasant to dwell upon than the dereliction of the past. There is to be a new order of things. Citizens may avail themselves to the fullest of the public pleasure grounds with the assurance that preponderating discomfort will not be their lot. A visit to the parks will no longer mean the risk of being drenched by rain, cutting off communication with the commissary department for a longer time than is good for adult or child, or being deprived of every creature comfort. On the contrary, the parks are to be made really delightful. The shelters and booths already designed are the beginning of a comprehensive plan for making of the great parks all that they should be to attract the multitudes. It is good work that will result in untold benefit to the people at large.

Parks are among the greatest of municipal possessions. They are not merely amusement resorts for the public, but properly developed and managed, they exert a wholesome influence upon the life of the community. They bring human nature into communion with nature at large in its beneficent aspect. Moreover, they may be made to draw men away from evil influences by offering something more attractive than the seductive Sunday speakeasy, which caustic-tongued strangers have, from time to time, declared to be the only oases in the Pittsburgh desert.

Sensible Management.

The suggestion of lower water rates is worthy the attention being given it by the committee of councils which has been investigating the subject of supply. For years the bureau of water supply has been earning surplus revenue. That revenue—it might be called a tax upon cleanliness—has been diverted to other bureaus, while the water supply has been allowed to become inadequate for proper protection from fire, if not actually insufficient for domestic uses. Water consumers on the South Side must pay the same rates that are paid in other parts of the city, which inures to the profit of the private corporation supplying that section. Undoubtedly a more intelligent conduct of the water supply business is in order. Either rates should be reduced, or the surplus revenue should be devoted to the construction of larger mains and general improvement of the system.

In deciding that M. Edmond Rostand is a plagiarist, Judge Kohlsaat manifests a commendable intention to protect the product of Chicago brains from appropriation by the adapters of effete Europe who know a good thing in the play line when they see it. When Samuel Eberly Gross announced that he was the real author of Rostand's play, "Cyrano de Bergerac," a disposition was manifested in the newspapers of the United States to refuse to take him seriously. "Can any good thing in the literary or dramatic line come out of Chicago?" they asked. But Mr. Gross invited the attention of the court to a drama which he had printed for private circulation, and produced expert evidence to show that the Frenchman had been perniciously active in borrowing action and language therefrom. Judge Kohlsaat was convinced and Chicago genius has been vindicated.

It must be an American who sends word from London that in official circles it is privately admitted peace negotiations with the Boers have progressed so far that "everything is over but the shouting." It will be good news for King Edward, whose influence is for peace, if it prove true, and the injection of the truly American expression into the reports gives more color to the hope than any other utterance on the subject. It is true that the St. James Gazette discourages premature rejoicing with a declaration that the cabinet was called together to discuss a controversial question, and that "no immediate decision may be looked for," but nevertheless the world is prepared to believe that the good news of peace is near at hand and that formal announcement will be made in time to increase the general rejoicing of the coronation season.

Allegheny county seems determined to keep up her unpleasant record of the past year in the way of crime. In addition to the recent murders that are under the inspection of the law authorities and about which there has been much discussion, there were three murders added to the list of yesterday. This is unusual, even for Allegheny county. Whether certain scientific theories with reference to the connection of extreme weather conditions and crime be well founded or not, it is an unmistakable fact that the arrival of excessive hot weather seems to start a wave of crime over the country.

Mother Was Doing Her Best.

From the Philadelphia Times.

William Pruette, the singer, was one of a group of married men who were discussing housekeeping and servants the other evening in a local hotel corridor. He told of a girl who served him and Mrs. Pruette well enough while they were living in a New York flat several years ago, and who one day went to Mrs. Pruette in tears and asked permission to go home for a few days—she had a telegram telling that her mother was ill.

"Of course, go," said Mrs. Pruette—"only, Maggie, do not stay longer than is necessary. We need you."

Maggie promised to return as soon as possible and hurried away. A week passed without a word from her; then came a note by mail, reading:

"Dear Miss Pruete I will be back nex week an plase kep my place for me mother is dying as fast as she can. To oblidg Maggie."

Five Dollars a Square Inch for Real Estate

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, May 23.

Real estate is measured by inches in some parts of New York, and a very small plot brings a large sum when it goes into the market. Only a few days ago a triangular piece of land in Harlem, at Third avenue and One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, which contained 40 square inches—just about room for a man to stand on—sold for $200. A little figuring reveals the interesting fact that this is at the rate of nearly $2,000,000 for a full-sized city lot. Two hundred dollars for 40 square inches is $5 an inch, or $720 a square foot. In an ordinary city lot in New York there are 2,500 square feet, so that the price paid relatively for this little piece of land, not much bigger than, and about the same shape as, a slice of the apple pie of commerce, was at the figure of $1,800,000 a lot. The annual taxes on this triangular piece of land are 68 cents. There was shrewd business sense in the purchase of it. The new owner knew that he could rent vault space and the sidewalk to a distance of 20 feet from the city at reasonable rates, which, with the five feet he is entitled to under the stoop line, would give him considerable space. His lot measures only 14 inches in width on One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, but that width gives him the right to rent vault space many times larger than his own property. Another piece of property which has been in public notice lately is a four-inch strip on the most valuable part of upper Broadway. The strange feature is that no owner has been found for it. It runs back 25 feet and is between a hotel on one side and a candy store on the other. Neither of the abutting property owners claim the four-inch lot. Now that attention has been called to it, it is reasonable to suppose that some one will turn up with a title to it. Of what use it can be is not apparent, although a lot on Broadway, even if only four inches wide, is not to be despised, especially when it runs back the full depth of an ordinary Broadway building. This lot is the narrowest in New York, just as the triangular piece of land in Harlem must be called the most expensive, according to the figures of the last transfer.

Aged Policeman First Heat Victim.

Several heat prostrations, one of them fatal, took place in New York today. It was the hottest day since last summer. When the mercury took a jump of 20 degrees between 6 a. m. and noon it was to be expected that some one would suffer. Strangely enough, the first man to succumb was a policeman. He fell on the sharp edge of a stone step and fractured his skull. He was more than 60 years of age.

Sunday Excursions Not to be Stopped.

If the general assembly should adopt the resolutions of the Sabbath observance committee and condemn Sunday excursions, it will have little sympathy from New Yorkers. If there is any institution in this city which is jealously upheld, it is the Sunday excursion. Whether right or wrong, from a religious point of view, anyone living here can testify that there is no more possibility of the summer trips to the seashore or into the country being stopped than there is of pushing back the Atlantic ocean with a broom. Tenement dwellers, factory hands, clerks, sweat shop workers and business men regard the Sunday excursion as one of their dearest privileges. The joy of running down to a "beach" or taking a stroll across the links of some golf club in the suburbs has come to be a necessity to the New Yorker. Of course, it is in accordance with Presbyterian principles to condemn any worldly employment, whether for business or pleasure, on the first day of the week; but the general assembly may as well understand at the beginning that it is not legislating for this metropolis when it takes up this question.

Presbyterians Pose on a Rock.

An exceedingly good photograph was obtained of the general assembly this afternoon. The commissioners were posed on an immense rock in Central park, near the Fifty-ninth street entrance, and the operator said the result would be entirely satisfactory. Dr. Van Dyke, the moderator, placed the seal of his official approval on the grouping by saying: "It is an appropriate place for Presbyterians—on a rock."

Presbyterian "Levity" Objected To.

One of the papers here comments on the "suggestive tone of levity" which prevailed in the general assembly yesterday when the revision of the creed was under discussion. The paper seems to think that the commissioners should have been sad when they were about to change the old confession of faith. The logic of this is not obvious. If the general assembly felt that it was taking a wise course, the commissioners had reason to be cheerful. If the general assembly had been against it, the vote would not have been practically unanimous for the revision, as it was. This is the sentiment expressed to me by a well-known Pittsburgh Presbyterian this afternoon.

Trouble With Tammany Absalams.

When Lewis Nixon suddenly resigned the leadership of Tammany hall, he gave no thought to his Absalams. All he wanted was to get out of Tammany as quickly as possible. But there are the Absalams, without a leader, and they are in revolt against the triple regency formed yesterday. It will be remembered that when Lewis Nixon stepped into the shoes of Richard Croker, and while he was yet wabbling around in them in an uncertain way, he got 300 young men to join Tammany, calling them Absalams. He was enthusiastic over the suggestion that young blood was needed in the organization and was disposed to congratulate himself on the way he had brought youth into the ranks. Now a number of the Absalams threaten to become Republicans, or to join the Greater New York Democracy. They believe that the committee of three elected yesterday represents Richard Croker, and that Wantage is still ruling the Tammany tiger. The older men at the wigwam declare the Absalams are mistaken, while Nixon, from his shipyard, makes no comment.

Central Park in Danger.

Now it is declared that Central park is fading away. The assertion comes from no less an authority than the landscape architect of the park department, Samuel Parsons, a man who knows more about Central park than any other living person. There is no mistake about Mr. Parsons' meaning. Here is what he is quoted as saying: "In many places the soil of the park is not more than six inches deep, and it is the same old lifeless, sandy soil that has covered the rocks since the island was discovered. Plant life cannot live long in such soil as that. To put a new surface of soil over the entire park and replant it, as should be done, would cost something like $1,500,000; but all this work could be done in sections, so that the expenditure would not be so burdensome and the city would not be deprived of the use of the entire park while the work was being done." The people of New York will not begrudge a million and a half of dollars to save Central park. If it really is in the condition described by Mr. Paesons, there are at least 2,000,000 out of the 3,000,000 of population who are readier to pay $1,500,000 to restore Central park than they were to dip into their municipal treasury for the $1,000,000 required for the rich men's Speedway.

Fashion Decrees a Ping-Pong Frock.

The ping-pong frock has arrived. According to a fashion writer here, when a young woman plays ping-pong she must wear a foulard, and if she intends to be entirely swagger it will be a "smart pin-dotted or minutely-figured cream-white satin twill foulard built up on the lines of a decorated shirt waist suit." This description is quoted from an authority, and Pittsburgh feminity may accept it as the very last word in ping-pong sartorialism.

Forty Thousand for One Life.

The widow of one of the victims of the fatal collision in the New York Central tunnel on January 8, Mrs. Christine H. Hinsdale, today obtained a verdict of $40,000 against the railroad company for the death of her husband, Edward C. Hinsdale. The deceased man was manager of the foreign department of the Morton Trust Company. The railroad company will appeal the case, of course. If such a verdict were to stand, it would establish a precedent that would make the tunnel disaster much more expensive than the railroad thinks it should be. On the other hand, the widow of today's suit declared that the money awarded by the court was insignificant compared with her loss. The railroad company has been settling most of the claims for damages, giving about 40 per cent of the amount demanded, and it is possible that this one may be compromised.

Not Negligence to Board a Moving Car

It was decided by the appellate division of the supreme court in this city today that it is not an act of negligence, in the eyes of the law, to step aboard a moving street car. A man entered suit against the Metropolitan street railway for damages on account of injuries he sustained while getting on a car in motion. The lower court decided that he had been guilty of contributory negligence because he did not wait for the car to stop before he got aboard. The supreme court today, in reversing the decision of the other court, said that it is patent to the observation of every one in a large city that persons frequently enter upon a street car while it is moving slowly. The act may be a negligent one or an imprudent one, but it is not necessarily so in contemplation of law.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

SOCIETY NOTE—M. Emile Loubet, a well-known citizen of Paris, who has been the house guest of Col. Nicholas Romanoff, in St. Petersburg, has started for home. M. Loubet reports a most enjoyable visit.

The wife of Alfonso XIII. will take a boy king to raise.

It seems a pity that William Jennings Bryan left Havana so soon, when President Palma may be in need of advice on how to run a government.

M. Rostand now knows what a Chicago court thinks of his plagiaristic abilities.

Marked down water rents would please water consumers.

The Seattle policy seems to be the safe one for the people of St. Pierre to adopt.

Swallow is still the pet bird of the Pennsylvania Prohibitionists.

According to the generous method of computing population by multiplying the names in the city directory by a sufficiently large multiplier, Chicago now has 2,140,000 inhabitants. Uncle Sam was able to discover only 1,698,575 Chicagoans two years ago.

Confession is due from William Jennings Bryan that the big crowds in Havana the other day did not congregate to hear the peerless one make a speech.

Prompt Prescription.

Physicians receive some queer calls. The oddest call in the experience of an East Liberty physician was over the telephone one night. The conversation ran like this:

"Is this No. Naughty-naught?"

"Yes."

"Is it Dr. Blank's?"

"Yes; what's wanted?"

"Is the doctor there?"

"Right here at the telephone."

"Well, there's a woman on fire here!"

"Put her out," responded the doctor, promptly.

Then he managed to get the address from the excited person at the other end of the wire and hastened to the scene.

The woman's clothing had caught fire from a gas stove in the bath room, but fortunately her garments were woolly and heavy and the fire was extinguished without doing much harm.

Cicadas on the Bill of Fare.

The last time the 17-year locust made itself numerous in the United States the Entomological society of Washington experimented with it as a food.

The locust was served broiled, in a plain stew, and a milk stew, and also fried in batter. One enthusiastic bug-eater declared that he much preferred fried cicadas to fried oysters or shrimps, but the consensus of opinion was that the 17-year locusts would never be regarded as a delicacy.

Indians used to eat them raw, and longed for their return as the white man who is fond of oysters awaits the months with the "r."

If the edibility of the cicada has any bearing on the high price of meat, the beef combine is invited to consider the possibilities.

How'll you have your cicada—stewed, broiled, or raw?

Self-Satisfied.

"Mr. Beechwood prides himself on being a self-made man," said Miss Forbes.

"He is extremely well pleased with the job, too," added Miss Center.

THE DEATH ROLL.

John Way, Jr.

John Way, Jr., president of the board of managers of the Allegheny county workhouse, and one of the early settlers in the Sewickley valley, died yesterday at noon at his home in Sewickley in his 71st year. Mr. Way's death was caused by a general breakdown of the system. He was prominent in educational circles in this section of the state, having for years acted as superintendent of the old Sewickley academy, of which he was a graduate. He was born in Chester county, Pa., and upon the death of his father the family moved to Sewickley, where Mr. Way after his graduation took charge of the farm, known as "Way's Desire," purchased by one of his ancestors from the state in 1775. In 1877 he reorganized the old Sewickley academy and erected a fine building upon his own property for the academy's use. Mr. Way served on the school board of the borough for many years, and was also active in religious circles, being a member of the Sewickley Presbyterian church, serving at various times as an elder and as a trustee. He also held the office of justice of the peace of Leet township for several terms. Mr. Way's grandfather, John Way, came to this section in 1797 from Chester county, and was the first justice of the peace in Allegheny county, west of Pittsburgh, holding the office for 20 years previous to his death in 1825. When the Sewickley academy was closed about 10 years ago Mr. Way practically retired from active life. He is survived by his wife and three sons—W. A. Way, a member of the Pittsburgh bar; Frederick Way, of the brokerage firm of McClure & Way, and John W. Way.

John Way, Jr.

John Willey Martin.

John Willey Martin, a prominent and widely known citizen of the East End, died yesterday afternoon at his residence, No. 5518 Center avenue, after an illness of one week. He was the son of Caleb R. Martin and Elisa Jane McFarland, and was born in West Chester, Pa., November 7, 1848. He resided in this city for 35 years and received his education at Elders Ridge academy. For over 30 years he was connected with the East Liberty stock yards, and was for some years the superintendent. He was married 17 years ago to Miss Ida Roup, of East Liberty, and is survived by his widow, two brothers and three sisters: Edward, Wilmer, Mrs. William F. Aull, Mrs. James H. Hodil and Mrs. Frank H. Chalfant, the wife of the Rev. F. H. Chalfant, who is now at Wei-Hai-Wei, China. He was prominently connected with the Masonic order, and was a member of Duquesne Lodge No. 540, which will have charge of the funeral services; Pittsburgh Chapter Royal Arch Masons, No. 268, and Duquesne Commandery No. 72, Knights Templar. He was also a member of the Royal Arcanum. The services will be held at the residence of his brother, Rufus Martin, No. 427 Lincoln avenue, East End, on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. Blake of Christ Methodist Episcopal church officiating. The interment will be in Homewood cemetery.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Kerr.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Kerr died yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at his residence in Blairsville, Pa., at the age of 76. He was born in County Donegal, Ireland, and was educated at Franklin college, New Athens, O., graduating later at Canonsburg, Washington county, Pa. He was for 44 years pastor of Harmony United Presbyterian church, Blairsville, his first and only pastorate, from which he resigned five years ago. He was married to Miss Emma McJunkin, of Butler, sister of Hon. J. D. McJunkin, who survives him.

Mrs. John Carney.

Mrs. Mary Holden Carney, 55 years old, wife of John Carney, one of the best known business men of the South Side, died yesterday morning at the family home, No. 2226 Carson street, South Side. Besides her husband, five children survive her—John J. and Thomas e. Carney, who are associated in the undertaking business with their father, and Richard and Wilbert and one daughter, Annie. Mrs. Carney was a member of the Holy Cross Roman Catholic church.

Mrs. Sarah Walker.

BUTLER, PA., May 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. Sarah Walker, the oldest resident of this place, is dead at the age of 93. She was the widow of Nathaniel Walker of Butler, and the mother of Major J. H. Walker, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Hamilton, New York harbor. Her other children are C. Clarence, an attorney of Butler; Leonidas Walker, of Hamilton county, Ill.; and Mrs. Carrie Johnston of East Townsend.

Samuel Newton Brown.

Samuel Newton Brown, 21 years old, one of the best known young men in business and social circles in Homestead, died of paralysis yesterday at the home of Frank Patterson in Fourteenth avenue, Homestead. He was a former resident of Youngstown, O., and is survived by his step-mother and one sister, both of whom reside in Payne, O. Mr. Brown was a member of the Elks and the Knights of Pythias lodges in Homestead.

Thomas C. Hopper.

NEW CASTLE, PA., May 23.—(Special.)—Thomas C. Hopper died today. He was 48 years of age and had been ill from lung trouble for several months. He was a member of the Shenango Lodge No. 158, I. O. O. F., of Lawrence Encampment No. 86, and of the Westfield Presbyterian church. He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

The Rev. Dr. J. L. McKee.

DANVILLE, KY., May 23.—The Rev. Dr. J. L. McKee, a professor emeritus of Center college and one of the best-known Presbyterian teachers and preachers in the south, died today from the effects of a carbuncle on the neck. He was 75 years old. His daughter, Miss Leola McKee, is president of the Oxford college at Oxford, O.

Mrs. H. H. Zeigler.

MERCER, PA., May 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. H. H. Zeigler dropped dead in the dining room of the Hotel Humes this evening. Heart trouble, superinduced by the heat, was the cause of death. She is survived by her husband, a prominent attorney of this place, two sons and one daughter. She was a daughter of the Hon. S. R. Mason.

Robert R. Fleming.

CLEARFIELD, PA., May 23.—(Special.)—Robert R. Fleming, one of the leading merchants of the county, died at his home in Houtzdale today, of paresis. He was prominent as an anti-machine Republican, and was one of the trustees of the college hospital at Philipsburg. He was 60 years of age.

PERSONALS

Patrick Henderson, a New York merchant, passed through Pittsburgh last night on his way west on a business trip. He was talking of the disaster in Martinique, and spoke of the trade between that island and the United States. He said: "The exports to Martinique, a great part of which start from New York, amount to about $750,000 a year. Bread stuffs, provisions, corn and kerosene are the chief exports from this country. Most of the exports of Martinique go to France, because of the tariff law inducements. France allows on all products of her own colonies shipped there a return of taxes "de distance," that is a remittance of duties in proportion to the distance between the colony and the mother country."

---

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, passed through Pittsburgh last night on his way to Denver, Col., from his home in Washington, D. C. He is going to Denver to attend a convention of the Western Federation of Miners, a part of the American Federation of Labor, which convenes next Monday. He was asked whether there was any truth in the rumor that the bituminous coal miners intended going out on a sympathy strike with the anthracite moners, and he replied, "You will have to see Pat Dolan about that." Mr. Dolan, president of the Pittsburgh district of the United Mine Workers, has already said that he knows nothing of any strike among his men. When Mr. Morrison heard that he said, "Well, Dolan's word goes," which would indicate that all strike rumors amount to nothing at all.

---

E. C. Bollinger, a coal merchant of Vicksburg, Miss., went west over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last night. He says that Vicksburg people, and people in all cities of the lower Mississippi valley are much interested in the Pittsburgh district as a coal center, because they must depend upon this part of the country for their coal, which comes to them principally by water. "The business men of the lower Mississippi valley," said he, "are preparing to visit Pittsburgh, and the coal fields hereabouts with the idea of petitioning congress to appropriate more money for the improvement of water navigation in the Ohio river. They believe anything that will benefit Pittsburgh in that way will also accrue to their benefit."

---

Carl L. Terry, secretary of the Allegheny Coal Company of Cleveland, O., went home last night. He said: "My company has acquired about 4,000 acres of land in the Allegheny Valley district. We have opened one mine, and have about 70 men working. We have signed the wage scale and the strike on in that region does not worry us at all. We are preparing to build a tipple near our junction with the West Penn railroad at Cheswick, and we will open two or three more mines soon. We have built a track from the railroad to the mine, a distance of about two miles.

---

A. L. McMurtry of New York, a son of the president of the American Sheet Steel Company, is registered at the Hotel Lincoln. He came there from Warren, O., where he had been visiting an automobile works in which he is interested. It is said that Mr. McMurtry comes to Pittsburgh with the idea of building another automobile factory, but he could not be seen last night to confirm or deny the rumor.

---

Fred H. McIntyre, president of the Pennsylvania division of the Travelers' Protective association, and Fred R. Case, president of Post A of Philadelphia of the same association, are registered at the Hotel Henry. They are here to organize Post C of the association in Pittsburgh, and have a good start already. The association is for traveling men, and it is hoped that a strong post will be established here. The Pittsburgh men will meet within the next two weeks to organize, and the directors of the state division will take action on their application for charter.

---

The graduate members of Delta chapter, Nu Sigma Nu fraternity, at the West Penn Medical college, were tendered a smoker at the Hotel Henry last night by the undergraduate members.

---

Robertson Ford, who is connected with a ship-building firm, is registered at the Hotel Henry on his way from Washington, D. C., to his home in Illinois. He has been in Washington watching the naval appropriation bill. He said last night: "There is a general sentiment among the people of the country that the new warships of the government should be built in the government navy yards. The navy yard last year cost some $18,000,000 and did a little more than $4,000,000 work."

---

Charles F. Towne of Buffalo, N. Y., is registered at the Hotel Henry. He says that the buildings of the Pan-American exposition are being razed very rapidly and within three months there will be no trace of the exposition left. He explained that the land on which the exposition was held was leased for a certain time from the Rumsey estate, with the provision that when the buildings were torn down the sewer system laid should be let alone. Thus the land is sewered and can be readily sold.

---

Philip Hiss of the firm of Hiss & Weekes of New York, who has been in Pittsburgh for a week past, returned to his home last night. He said: "In spite of the high prices of material in New York there is an immense amount of building going on there now. Structural steel seems to be very hard to get. It is planned a $3,000,000 hotel to be built at Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street, and it has been held back for months because of structural steel could be had. The hotel will not have any wood in it and will be fireproof."

---

T. R. Falvy of the Falvy-Wilson Company of New Orleans returned home last night after a few days in Pittsburgh. He spoke in high terms of Pittsburgh's residences, saying that the architecture was very fine. He visited the new home of A. R. Peacock in North Highland avenue and was much impressed with it. "It is a very handsome house," he remarked last night. "It has some of the finest rooms in it I have ever seen, and for seven years I traveled for a Chicago firm which did high-class interior decorating. One salon cannot be beaten in any home I have ever been in."

---

The Tax Reform club met in the Hotel Henry last night and adopted a resolution indorsing W. W. Bailey of Johnstown, Pa., for governor and recommending him to the Democratic state convention. There were delegates present from the counties of Blair, Cambria, Somerset, Bedford and Allegheny. W. A. Hawley of Pittsburgh acted as chairman and T. H. Mahaffey of Johnstown was secretary.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Newell—John J. Lincoln, Elkboro, W. Va.

TRADE REASON FOR INSISTING ON RECIPROCITY

With Cuba, Balance Is Against Uncle Sam and in Favor of John Bull.

GERMANY A LARGE FACTOR

Preferential Tariff Arrangement With the Island Needed to Reverse These Conditions—Senators Still Negotiating for an Agreement.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 605 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.

Current indications that England and Germany are making strenuous efforts to capture the Cuban trade will be brought to the attention of congress as further argument for the speedy passage of the Cuban reciprocity bill. The markets of Cuba are possessed by countries other than the United States, and it is asserted that nothing but a preferential tariff can overcome the natural trade conditions which have given European countries their commercial foothold in Cuba.

Undoubtedly the United States possesses diplomatic prestige in Cuba, but the foreigners are raking in the bulk of the Cuban dollars in exchange for commodities shipped to the island. Cuba sells to the United States and buys abroad.

Cuba's exports for 1901 amounted to $83,278,850, and $48,096,579 worth came to the United States. Cuba's imports aggregated $66,582,673, of which amount only $28,078,633 came from the United States. England is away ahead of the United States in the markets of Cuba. The desire of the British government to get its minister to Havana first, so that he would be a dean of the diplomatic corps, was not political. It is construed in Washington to be but a part of the plan of the English to strengthen their hold on the commerce of Cuba.

Negotiations for an agreement of Republican senators on the pending bill are in progress, but the necessary majority in favor of any definite proposition has not been obtained up to this time.

Senator Aldrich, a leading factor in all Republican conferences on legislation of this character, will be out of the city for a few days. In his absence it is thought that announcement will not be made of final agreement upon the terms of the proposed reciprocity measure. It is said the opposition to the reciprocity bill on the Republican side is diminishing, and that it does not now present or threaten to present serious form. At the same time the senators whose concern appears to be for the beet sugar industry have not altogether abandoned their hope of securing more favorable terms than the house bill presents.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

MILES NOT IN LINE.

The President Changes Order Relating to Temporary Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—The president has issued two executive orders concerning the contingency which presents itself when both the secretary and the assistant secretary of war are temporarily absent from the seat of government, and also the occasion when the adjutant general of the army is away from his post.

The first order rescinds the former ones under which the lieutenant general of the army, and in that official's absence, the adjutant general of the army, performs the duties of secretary of war when the secretary is absent. The other executive order provides that in the absence of the adjutant general the senior officer on duty in his office shall perform his duties.

New Keystone Army Officer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—(Special.)—On the recommendation of Senators Quay and Penrose the president has appointed another member of the Pennsylvania National Guard to be a first lieutenant in the regular army, in the person of Francis W. Ralston of Philadelphia, who served in the First Pennsylvania Volunteers in the Spanish war and as a second lieutenant of the Thirtieth United States volunteers in the Philippines.

Nicaragua May Make Better Terms.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—Mr. Cores, minister from Nicaragua, called on Secretary Hay this morning and announced that if the provisions of the treaty negotiated between Nicaragua and the United States with reference to the Isthmian canal are not entirely satisfactory to this government his country stands ready to make any concessions that might be suggested.

Going to Ohio Convention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—(Special.)—A number of the Ohio delegation in congress will leave Washington on a special train tomorrow night for Cleveland to attend the Ohio Republican state convention, to be held there on the 27th and 28th. In the party will be Senator Hanna and Representatives Dick, Grosvenor, Tayler, Brom, Nevin, Warnock, Hildebrand and Beidler.

New Country Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—The following postmasters were appointed today: Pennsylvania—Oliphant Furnace, Fayette county, J. C. Lehman; Park Gate, Beaver county, R. J. McKim; Park Quarries, Beaver county, W. H. Park. Ohio—Yale, Portage county, J. T. Gue.

Wilmerding Postmaster in Luck.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—(Special.)—The salary of the postmaster at Wilmerding was increased from $2,100 to $2,200 on July 1 because of the increased receipts.

COUNTY EXAMINATIONS.

Additional Subjects Will Require Two Days at Each Place This Year.

Prof. Samuel Hamilton, county superintendent of public schools, announces that the regular examinations for the teachers of Allegheny county for the ensuing year will be held as follows: At Coraopolis, May 31 and June 7; Etna, June 9 and 10; Braddock, June 15 and 14; Carnegie, June 20 and 21, and Tarentum, June 23 and 28. These examinations will begin at 8:30 o'clock a. m.

Heretofore these examinations have been confined to one day, but as the legislature has added algebra and civil government to all certificates this year, a day and a half or two days will be required for each examination. The regular examination in the higher branches, including music and drawing, will be held in the Third ward school, Braddock, on Saturday morning, September 6, at 9 o'clock.

All applicants for certificates should be provided with the material necessary for a written examination, and with a stamped envelope, properly addressed to themselves. No private examinations will be granted and persons too young to teach will not be examined.

CAMPBELL'S.
Perfumes.

Full line of imported and domestic handkerchief extracts, such makes as Woodsworth's, Colgate's, Harrison's, as well as L. T. Piver's and Roger & Gallet's fine French goods; all odors, including violette, from 15 cents to 75 cents an ounce.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

A Sale That Is Attracting Widespread Attention.

One of the events of the season and one in which women will be specially interested is a sale at the well-known drug house of Joseph Fleming & Son, 410-412 Market street, of high class fountain syringes at a fraction of their regular price. When you can buy a 2-quart for 25c, a 3-quart for 35c and a 4-quart for 50c, all complete with pipes and five feet of tubing, you can rest assured such bargains will not go begging. By mail costs 12 cents extra.

Society

A RAPID succession of social affairs and business meetings is crowding the end of the week for the United States Daughters of 1812. The series began with Mrs. Sullivan Johnson's tea yesterday afternoon, and will conclude with the closing of the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania society, United States Daughters of 1812, this afternoon.

Mrs. Johnson, the state regent, gave a large tea at "Heartsease," her home in Western avenue, Allegheny, her guests including members of Dolly Madison chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, the officers of the state society and other members of the state society and delegates and visitors from other chapters in Pennsylvania. Her hospitable home was well filled with guests who were received in the large white and gold drawing room by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Robert T. Reineman, state secretary; Mrs. Henry Clay Marshall of Media, state historian; Mrs. Martha Cameron House, state registrar; Mrs. Frank H. Murdock, regent of Dolly Madison chapter; Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, ex-regent of Dolly Madison chapter, and her sister, Mrs. Mann of Washington, D. C., regent of one of the Washington, D. C., chapters, Daughters of the American Revolution. Assisting the receiving ladies, both in the drawing room and in the dining room, were Mrs. Cyrus B. Clarke, Jr., Mrs. Edwin F. Earl, Mrs. Lee S. Smith, Mrs. Charles Frisbee, Mrs. J. F. Johnson, Mrs. James Thoburn, Jr., Mrs. Mansfield A. Ross, Miss Helen Clarke, and Miss Bertha Fisher, secretary of Dolly Madison chapter.

The house was simply decorated with ferns and vines and pink and white carnations, the society flower and colors, which appeared in the drawing room in simple and unconventional arrangement, while in the dining room they formed the large centerpiece on the tea table. The American flag and the flag of the society were combined in a very effective manner.

The tea was an informal one and followed a meeting of ladies composing the committee for the revision of the by-laws of the society. The committee consists of Mrs. Henry Clay Marshall of Media, chairman; Mrs. Cyrus Clarke, Jr., Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Mrs. Martha Cameron House, Mrs. Robert Reineman and Mrs. Sullivan Johnson.

Uniting Two Celebrations.

On the recommendation of the board of management of the Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the committee of arrangements has decided to combine the celebration of flag day and the eleventh anniversary of the organization of the chapter. The two-fold celebration will be held on Tuesday, June 10 at the home of Mrs. Halsey Wilkins, in Shadeland. The committees appointed to take charge of the entertainment are:

Invitations and address—Mrs. S. Jarvis Adams, chairman; Mrs. George Heard, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh and Mrs. Upton A. Andrews.

Decorations and music—Mrs. James B. Oliver, chairman; Mrs. James E. Unbestaetter, Mrs. John B. Porter, Mrs. John S. Dickson and Mrs. Theodore W. Nevin.

Refreshments—Mrs. William Walker, chairman; Mrs. Edward Gilmore, Miss Mary Gray, Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mrs. Theodore W. Nevin, Miss Rebecca Shields, Miss Mary K. Guthrie, Miss Lucy F. Bittinger and Miss Sutia Alberta Rice.

Sophomores Entertained Seniors.

A gay party was given last night in honor of the seniors of the Pennsylvania College for Women by the members of the sophomore class. It was a hay ride, the girls filling a big, four-horse wagon and driving out the pike beyond Edgewood. Returning they had supper at Kuhn's, in the East End. With the students were President Chalmers Martin of the college, Miss Jane B. Clark, one of the teachers, and James C. Gray, whose daughter is a sophomore.

The guests of honor were Miss Mary McKinnie, president of the senior class; Misses Anna Hoston, Mary Blair, Edith Stanton, Anna Montgomery, Helen Dickie, Helen Sherrard, Elsie Braun, Elizabeth Van Wagener, Clara Littell, Mary Shrom, Mary McClelland and Grace Kingsley. The sophomores, the hostesses last evening, were Miss Nancy Jane Speer, of the class; Misses Edna McKee, Katherine McKee, Lida Young, Jessie Gray, Helen Thomas, Elizabeth Proctor and Rebekah Eggers.

Entertain Japanese Bankers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McKinley of North Craig street entertained during the week Ladayuki Ikuta and Nakaji Kajiwara, prominent bankers from Tokio, Japan. They represent the Bank of Japan and have been in this country for several months in the interests of the Japanese government, looking over American industries and financial interests.

Lawn Fetes In Bellevue.

A number of lawn fetes and outdoor entertainments are to be given in Bellevue in the near future, notable among which is the annual entertainment of the Bellevue volunteer fire company, a large lawn fete in Rodgers and Lincoln avenues on Wednesday evening, June 4. The company is composed of a number of well-known Bellevue men, and their entertainments are always of interest. The fete will be in charge of a number of matrons and young girls in Bellevue and Avalon. The following evening, June 5, the women of the United Presbyterian church will give a lawn fete on the grounds surrounding the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Doty, in Lincoln avenue. Thursday evening, May 29, the young women of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Epiphany will give an entertainment in the parish rooms, supplemented with a bazaar and lawn fete in the grounds behind the church.

Club Officers Elected.

The Woman's club of Turtle Creek yesterday held its last meeting until September. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. W. J. McConnell; vice president, Mrs. S. A. Barth; secretary, Mrs. A. C. Miller; treasurer, Mrs. P. W. Boll. Papers were read on the disaster at Martinique and current literature was discussed, after which the members were guests of Mrs. J. H. Holmes at an informal reception. During the year much has been accomplished and the members are proud of the measures they have had passed in the borough. Among them are the curfew ordinance, a rigid enforcement of the anti-cigarette law forbidding dealers selling cigarettes to boys under 16 years of age and the enforcement of sanitary laws in the borough.

State Meeting of Daughters of 1812.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania society, United States Daughters of 1812, opens this morning at the Hotel Schenley. The morning session will be occupied with reports, followed by the election of officers. At 2 o'clock the Dolly Madison chapter will give a luncheon in honor of the visiting state officers and delegates, which will be a large and elaborate affair at the Schenley. The decorations will consist of pink and white carnations, and short and informal addresses will be made by a number of the women.

NOTES OF HAPPENINGS.

An interesting concert was given last evening by the quartet of the Bellevue Christian church. Miss Mabel Murdock, soprano; Miss May Horner, contralto; E. C. Sykes, tenor, and W. F. Church, bass, in the Woody Avenue Christian church, Allegheny. C. Marion Couch was the accompanist.

The first of the summer galeties planned by the Tonpoth club will be a fashionable ride on Decoration Day. The club will drive to one of the beautiful farms on the Perrysville road, where lunch will be served. The list of patronesses includes Mrs. C. L. Straub, Mrs. A. C. Taylor and Mrs. C. W. Dickinson.

The Keystone Bicycle club minstrels held their last rehearsal last evening and from the way the boys went through their parts they should present a very interesting entertainment on Monday night. The committee has decided to give a dance at the club house on Howe street after the show. The reserved seat coupon will admit the holder to the club house. Refreshments will also be served.

A successful bazar and strawberry festival was held last evening in the Ingram Association hall under the auspices of the Women's Aid society of the Ingram Presbyterian church. The members of the society recently erected a handsome new building in Ingram and a large part of the debt has been paid by the aid society. The reception committee was composed of Mrs. D. A. Dunsmith, Mrs. D. J. Rex, Mrs. W. G. Harper and Mrs. J. A. Cobi.

The regular Friday afternoon pupils' recital took place at the recital hall of the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music yesterday afternoon. The program contained several numbers of more than ordinary interest, among others a Goldner suite for four hands, played by Misses Anna Slaymaker and Lena Orton; a group of solos by Heller, Del Valle de Paz and Nevin, played by Miss Claudia Hax, and two Schubert numbers played by Miss Sue McConahy. The other participants in the program were Misses Cornelia Freberhauser, Naomi Shillinger, Grace Martin, Olive Bulger and Jeannette Love.

How Mme. De Maintenon, the Most Beautiful Woman in History, Retained Her Beauty and Youthful Appearance.

How Any Woman Can Attain Beauty and Youthful Looks

Mme. DeMaintenon, said to be the most beautiful woman that ever lived, and the favorite of the luxurious court of Louis XIV, when seventy years of age, is history records, looked scarcely thirty. Her complexion was a marvel, and the envy of all the most noted beauties for which the court of Louis Le Grande was famous. Her youth and beauty, it was asserted, were ascribed to a secret lotion of Paracelsus, that kept her complexion in its youthful vigor and radiant glow, warding off the wrinkles and keeping away the lines and removing the blemishes that are the arch enemies of beauty and youthful looks.

This secret, for which Mme. De Maintenon paid a fabulous sum, can today be obtained by every lady at a very reasonable cost.

By a diligent research into the laws of nature and a careful study in the realms of chemistry, Mme. Ruppert, the most noted Complexion Specialist of the present day, has discovered a formula that not only equals the secret formula of Paracelsus, but in many respects far surpasses it.

MADAME A. RUPPERT'S FACE BLEACH does all that the secret formula of Paracelsus did. It keeps the complexion youthful, regarding wrinkles and lines, removing the discolorations and blemishes, giving that delicate pink and white glow, so natural to youth; making the skin smooth, clear and a marvel of beauty. Freckles, pimples, moth, blackheads, sallowness and oiliness of the skin rapidly disappears with its use, and there is scarcely a defect to which the complexion is heir which will not readily yield to its miraculous curative and youth-restoring qualities.

IT CANNOT FAIL to produce these grand results, and to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate complexion, as its action harmonizes perfectly with the laws of nature and hygiene, the two factors which must be closely adhered to and followed, to improve permanently one's personal appearance.

FACE BLEACH has a twofold action on the skin. 1st, a magnetical action, which attracts and draws to the surface the impurities and discolorations which collect below the outer skin, similar to the attracting property of the magnet for iron; and 2d, a chemical action which stimulates and invigorates the entire tissue (or cuticle) of the outer skin, causing a slight surface of the outer diseased and dead cuticle, leaving the skin beautiful and youthful looking by nature—clear, smooth and perfect.

THIS IS THE ONLY METHOD by which the complexion can be safely and positively rejuvenated.

A positive guarantee is given if Face Bleach is used according to the new special directions, which are furnished with each order, that it will remove every discoloration and impurity from your complexion.

All of Mme. A. Ruppert's world renowned preparations are sold by us at reduced prices.

THE MOTOR-PACE RIDERS READY FOR THE RACE

THE CLASSIC TURF EVENT OF THE SEASON

Fifteen of the Best Thoroughbreds Are Ready to Go to the Post.

WILL BE GREAT BETTING

Advance Guard, Blues and Monograph Are the First in Favor for a Dry Track — Record Breaking Crowd Is Looked For.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 23.—There is every indication tonight that the field which will go to the post in the Brooklyn handicap at the opening of the spring meeting at Gravesend tomorrow will include about 15 of the best thoroughbreds in the country, though, if rain should fall during the night the number of entries will be considerably reduced.

Assuming that the rain holds off and that the track is dry and fast the race will probably furnish the greatest betting event of any Brooklyn handicap in years, with Advance Guard, Blues and Monograph holding the first public favor. Blues will carry 124 pounds and will be ridden by N. Turner. Advance Guard, with 117 pounds, will have strong support on account of his defeat of Heno at Morris Park yesterday. The Western colt Monograph, has sprung into popularity on account of a wonderful work out over the mile and a quarter course in a little over 2:05 a few days ago. This is said to be the best trial that any of the candidates has shown.

Among the other horses which will be bet on freely, place and show, if not straight, are Herbert, Alcedo, Roehampton, Watercure and Pentecost. In the event of rainfall with a muddy track, Herbert and Watercure will probably attract most of the public attention.

The officials of the Brooklyn Jockey club are looking for a record-breaking attendance of 40,000 to witness the race, and they seem justified in this estimate owing to the interest manifested in this classic turf event this year.

The following are the Gravesend entries for tomorrow:

First race, all ages, handicap, about 6 furlongs—Dr. Riddle, Cervera, 124, Smoke, 121; Kilogram, The Musketeer, 120; Canard, Demurrer, 117; Cameron, 116; Himself, 115; Jack Demund, 110; Highlander, 108; Neither One, 105; Eddie Busch, 102; Lamp O'Lee, 100; Northern Star, 100; Chiron, 95; Sterling Fox, 90.

Second race, Empire steeplechase, about 2½ miles—Jim Merithen, 164; The Cad, 153; Pulitzer, 149; Piute, 153; Bowdy, 147; W. Jennings, 147; Bolsterous, 143; Miss Mitchell, Marylander, 142; Perion, 140; Olindo, 137; Fabius, 134.

Third race, Expectation stakes, 5 furlongs—Deeper, Wax Candle, Sir Voorhies, Sunny Shore, Golden Maxim, River Pirate, Mexican, Rightful, Attorney, Fire Eater, injunction, Merry Acrobat, 115; Mary Street, 112.

Fourth race, Brooklyn handicap, 1¼ miles—Alcedo, 125; Blues, 124; Herbert, 123, Ten Candles, 119; Roehampton, 118; Advance Guard, 117; Water Cure, 110; Kamara, 105; Carbuncle, 104; The Regent, 103; Reina, 102; Pentecost, Monograph, Oom Paul, 100; Sadie S., 98; Flywheel, 97; Ethics, 92; Northern Star, 90.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 70 yards, selling—King Brandale, 117; Instrusive, 116; Contend, King Raine, 110; Ethics, 107; Agnes D., 106; Astor, Alsike, The Puritan, Fatalist, 100; Marathon, 99; Barbara Frietchie, Saturday, 97; Justice, 95; Fred Krupp, Eddie Busch, 92; Vassal Dance, 88.

Seventh race, 5 furlongs—Bernard, 109; Rostrand, Kennard, 105; Mexicanna, 102; Hiro, 101; George W. Bosch, 101; Robinet, Waste Night, Jane Kay, 97; Turnpike, 95.

RACED IN THE RAIN.

The Track at Louisville Was a Sea of Mud.

LOUISVILLE, May 23.—Oconee and Chorus Boy, the latter in the Gentlemen's cup race, were the only winning favorites at Churchill Downs this afternoon. The rain was falling in torrents and the track was a sea of mud, when the seven gentlemen riders started on their mile journey. Mr. Arnold of Cincinnati, who had the mount on Chorus Boy, the best of the lot, won in a drive, with Mr. Fetter, who was on Masterful. Chorus Boy was an odds on favorite in the betting and the prices on the others ranged from 6 to 50 to 1. Outside of the cup race, interest centered on the second race on the card, between Harry New and Hunter Raine and The Rival. The latter was favorite and after showing the way into the stretch was beaten by Hunter Raine in a drive. Summary:

First race, selling, 4½ furlongs—Almaric, 103, Ransch, 4 to 5, won; Mr. Farnum, 100, Coburn, 6 to 1, second; Shooting Star, 105, Buchanan, 6 to 5, third. No official time taken. Sequire, Pirate, Prism and Little Britain also ran.

Second race, 1¼ miles—Hunter Raine, 106, Winkfield, 6 to 5, won; The Rival, 108, Buchanan, even, second; Heavy New, 106, Lindsey, 5 to 1, third. Time, 2:03½.

Third race, selling, 6 furlongs—Oconee, 114, Lindsay, 4 to 5, won; Sulerman, 106, Coburn, 5 to 2, second; Opera Girl, 106, Roberts, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:22. Frank Becker and Flossie S. King also ran.

Fourth race, Gentleman's cup race, Silver piece of the value of $550 to winning rider—Chorus Boy, Mr. Arnold, 3 to 5, won; Masterful, Mr. Fetter, 7 to 1, second; Itacatiara, Mr. Slack, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:36½. Robert Morrison, Secundus, Rebel Jack and Sound Money also ran, and were ridden by Messrs. Buck, Helm, Harthill and Blanc, respectively.

Fifth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Foreda, 100, Buchanan, 8 to 1, won; Erema, 102, Date, 1 to 2, second; Fremus, 104, Ransch, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:04½. Kid Hampton, Brave Boer and The Geezer also ran.

Sixth race, selling, mile—Hinsdale, 112, Cogswell, 4 to 1, won; Cork, 93, Crabb, 10 to 1, second; Lizzie A., 107, Coburn, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:43. King Tarlus, Elnchello, Phosphorus and Parade also ran.

Entries for Saturday:

First race, 5 furlongs, purse, 2-year-olds—Lady Phiura, 100; Flash of Night, 100; Model Monarch, Lendin, Tom Hall, Bourbon, Ben Chalice, 108; Mallory, 112.

Second race, 5½ furlongs—Selling, 3-year-olds and upward—

League Games Today.

New York at Exposition park.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Chicago.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.

The distinctive feature of yesterday's ball game between the Pittsburgh and the New York teams, which the champions won by a score of 2 to 1, was the clever manner in which the Pirates out-baseballed Jack Doyle, the aggressive leader of the Giants. It was a fine display of generalship, which was loudly appreciated by the 2,100 spectators and sent them home in a happy humor to supper.

The Pirates' half of the ninth inning had been reached and the score was 1 to 1 with every evidence of the first extra inning game of the season. Beaumont, who was first at bat in the ninth, had two strikes and two balls called on him when he whaled away at one of Frank Sparks' benders and started it on a journey for the score board in right field. Jones, the Giants' right fielder, made a noble effort to head off the ball, but he might just as well have tried to stop the eruption of Pelee. He did manage to touch the ball, but that was all, and when he got it back to the diamond, Beau was safely anchored on third.

Honus Proved Helpless.

The next batter up was Honus Wagner, and the crowd let out a mighty cheer as the hero of Carnegie strode to the plate. Catcher Bowerman called the outfielders in close to the diamond in order to head off a short fly, and the move was a good one, because a long fly would count just the same as a hit. Beau is fleet of foot and could easily score. Honus tried with might and main to drive the ball out of the lot, but his efforts were vain and the best he could do was a dumpy little grounder to the pitcher, who easily fielded him out at first, still leaving Beaumont on third.

It was now Bransfield's turn at bat, and as Kitty ambled up to the plate Capt. Doyle called Pitcher Sparks over to him and in company with Second Baseman Smith the trio held a conference, which ended with the understanding that Bransy should be given a base on balls and a chance taken on Burke, the next batter. Kitty got the base on balls all right, and the crowd jeered the New York players for a lack of courage. Sparks looked as if he wanted to put the ball over the plate and take a chance, but he had his orders and was forced to follow them.

Where Doyle Was Outgeneraled.

Then came Jimmy Burke, who had been having a bad afternoon out around second base and he wanted to do something to redeem himself. The very first ball that Sparks sent in Jimmy placed his bat on in the form of a bunt. The ball sped down toward Doyle, who was playing in for just such a move. Doyle made a stab for the ball with his right, but never got near it, and when Smith picked the sphere up Burke had crossed first and Beaumont was in with the run that won the game.

Frank Sparks, the ex-Pirate, pitched a beauty of a game for New York, holding the champions down to five hits, two of which were secured in the ninth inning. He was as steady as one could ask, and while his delivery looked easy he had a bender that was a puzzler to the Pirate batsmen. The support given him was splendid, particularly by Second Baseman Smith, who made two stops in the fourth inning which were sensational and cut off what looked like sure base hits.

Eddie Doheny also pitched an exceedingly clever game for the Pirates. His support was clever with the exception of Burke's work at second. There was an excuse for that, as Burke is new at the position and the ground was still soft from Thursday night's rain. The players on both teams acted as if they had fresh supplies of ginger.

How the Runs Were Scored.

The Giants were the first to break the ice in the run-getting line, scoring in the sixth, when Smith singled, went to second on Jackson's out at first and scored on Bean's single to left. The Pirates tied the score in the seventh, when Bransfield doubled to center, went to third on Burke's out at first and scored on Leach's fly-out to Jackson in left. The winning run was scored in the ninth. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Christy Mathewson got busy for a short time yesterday and went out on the coacher's line.

Sam Leever had another run-in with Umpire Emslie for coaching batters when there was no runner on the bases.

There was a bunch of New York rooters in the east wing of the grandstand, who made noise enough for a regiment.

In the third inning the Giants were retired on foul flys, all of them to Harry Smith, who had a lively afternoon back of the bat, as Doheny was inclined to be a trifle wild and kept the catcher on the jump.

Conroy made a pretty play in the eighth which called for cheers. Jackson drove a hot one which Doheny tried for, but the ball glanced off, and quick as a flash Conroy got it and fielded the runner out at first.

The advent of Frank Sparks in the game gave the jokers a chance to spring that old gag about Catcher Bowerman getting his hands badly burned. The victim asks how and the joker replies, "By catching Sparks."

Fred Clarke donned his uniform yesterday afternoon for the first time since his suspension and indulged in practice work. When the early grandstand crowd caught sight of Fred in uniform it gave him the glad hand.

It is likely that Mathewson will be called on to pitch today's game. The big twirler got a bump on the right shoulder blade from one of Taneehill's curves on Wednesday that left him stiff and sore. It will be Chesbro's turn to pitch for the champions.

Eddie Doheny started out yesterday as if he were going after a strike-out record. He made the first four batters that faced him chop chunks out of the air. Eddie worked hard for a victory and would sooner take one game from the Giants than half a dozen from any other team. The reason is that New York passed Doheny up as a pitcher. It was a lucky day for the Pirates when Andy Freedman turned that trick.

George Smith, the Allegheny boy playing second for the Giants, set the crowd cheering wildly in the fourth inning by two stops of the sensational order. The victims were Wagner and Bransfield, who got base on balls on the ball. Smith tore the tags off by making remarkable left-hand stops and fielded both runners out at first base. Those plays nipped a Pirate run, as Conroy was on base awaiting a chance to cross the plate.

Frank Sparks looked cheap in the ninth inning when the crowd started to jeer him for giving Bransfield a base on balls. Had the ex-Pirate had his own way he would have put the ball over and for a minute it looked as if he were going to do it. That was the play that Capt. Doyle engineered and that the pitcher did not like. In his disgust he came pretty close to adding the fourth run on the pitch, thus allowing the runner to score. Sparks was always noted for his gameness when he was a Pirate.

WON BY WESTMINSTER.

Defeated Geneva in Field Meet, But Was Hard Pushed All the Way.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., May 23.—(Special.)—The intercollegiate track and field meet at the Morado driving park this afternoon, in which Westminster and Geneva colleges contested, was won by the former with 58 points to their credit. They were closely pushed at all stages by Geneva, who finished with 50 points.

Westminster took seven firsts, each counting five points; five seconds, each counting three points, and eight thirds, each counting one point. Geneva took five first, seven seconds and four thirds. Lamble did fine work for Westminster, taking three firsts, a second and a third. May of Geneva made a sensational broad jump of 21 feet 6½ inches, defeating Deevers, heretofore considered invincible. Silver medals were awarded to the first place men and bronze to the second place men. The following is the list of events and results:

100-yard dash—Won by Martin, Geneva; second, Deevers; third, Lamble. Time, :10 4-5.

Half-mile run—Won by Lamble, Westminster; second, McElhinney, Geneva; third, Price, Westminster. Time, 2:08.

Hammer throw—Won by Leech, Geneva; second, Edgar, Geneva; third, Witherspoon, Westminster. Distance, 92 feet 11¾ inches.

Half-mile bicycle—Won by Bryan, Westminster; second, Goettman, Geneva; third, Brown, Geneva. Time, 1:29 4-5.

220-yard dash—Won by Deevers, Westminster; second, Martin, Geneva; third, Yourd, Westminster. Time, :24½.

High jump—Won by Lamble, Westminster; second, Witherspoon, Westminster; third, Critchelow, Geneva. Distance, 5 feet 3 inches.

One mile run—Won by Lamble, Westminster; second, McElhenny, Geneva; third, Knox, Westminster. Time, 5:08½.

AFRAID OF THE LAW.

Cleveland Club Officials Will Keep Hands Off Lajoie and Barnhard.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—(Special.)—Charles W. Somers of Cleveland; Manager Armour of the Cleveland team, and Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, held a two hours' conference today regarding Lajoie and Barnhard. The westerners wanted to buy the two players' release from the Athletics and were willing to play them in spite of the Pennsylvania court's ruling. They decided not to make the deal. They realized that they would stand in danger of contempt of court and Somers left for home tonight without landing the men.

Will Try a New Twirler.

Manager Young of the Cleveland high school team will put in a new twirler against the Pittsburgh high school team this afternoon in Logue. His regular position is third base. Capt. Paul has a sore arm and will not try to fool the Pittsburgh boys a second time. The game will be called at 2:30. Friendship park has been put in fine shape. The recent rain made the whole field like a floor. As this is the first time a Cleveland high school team has played in Pittsburgh the interest in the game is high.

TODAY'S GOLF EVENTS.

Program Is an Extensive One—Edgeworth Course Closed Because of Death of John Way, Jr.

With a team match of the Western Pennsylvania association, and numerous cup events on the different links, local golfers will have enough to keep them busy this afternoon, if the weather man smiles upon their efforts. The day's schedule provides:

At Schenley park, team match between the Pittsburgh Golf club and the Edgeworth club of Sewickley, 18 holes of match play.

At Schenley park, first 18-hole round under handicap for a cup offered by J. Z. Speer, open to members of Pittsburgh Golf club. The lowest net score for today and a second 18-hole round on May 31, wins the trophy.

At Logans Ferry, first qualifying round of 18-hole under handicap for the Governors' trophy, open to members, 18 lowest net scores qualifying for match play on May 30, June 28, July 4 and July 5. Contest in conjunction with play for Governors' trophy for cup offered by B. C. Bakewell for the lowest gross score.

At Highland park, final 18-hole round under handicap for the cup first played for on May 10. Lowest net score for 36 holes takes cup, with E. Z. Smith, J. S. Martin and James Lockhart tied from the last contest with scores of 71 net.

At Allegheny Country club course, back of Sewickley, 27 holes of competition for the club team, the six lowest gross scores to qualify and beat three to-be substitutes. Cup for the best score offered by J. C. Oliver.

The Edgewood course at Sewickley will be closed throughout the day on account of the death of John Way, Jr.

YOUNG CORBETT GETS DECISION AGAINST BROAD

Denver Lad Groggy in Ninth Round, but Quickly Recovers Strength.

FIGHT FAST AND FURIOUS

Both Open Cautiously, but Soon Resort to Slam-Bang Methods—Little Time Is Lost from Gong to Gong—Their Third Meeting.

Denver, May 23.—William H. Rothwell, better known as "Young Corbett," gained the decision over "Kid" Broad of Cleveland at the end of a fast and furious fight tonight. Broad put up a very good fight and in the ninth round had Corbett groggy, but the Denver lad came back strong and finished the round fresh. At no time was there any time lost, both men being willing to lead and force the fighting whenever necessary. The fight tonight is the third time this pair has met. The contest was for half the gross receipts, 75 per cent of which goes to the winner, George English was referee.

Both men stripped in fine condition, and appeared confident of success. Corbett had bandages on his hands.

Broad Does Clever Work.

Round 2—They come up strong. After feinting for an opening, Corbett lands a right on the cheek. Broad puts a left to the jaw. Corbett lands on the ribs. Broad ducks a left swing. They come together in a fast mix-up. Corbett lands on the Kid's nose. They exchange right and left on the head in a clinch. Corbett lands a hard left jab to nose and Broad follows suit a second later. Broad taps Corbett on the nose. Corbett ducks a left jab and clinches. Corbett puts a vicious left to the Kid's ribs.

Round 3—Broad lands left. Broad jabs Corbett in the nose twice. Corbett jabs Broad in the nose. Broad counters a right swing. Corbett lands a right to Broad's ribs. They mix up at close range, with honors even. Corbett lands right to ribs. Corbett lands a hard one on the ear. Broad misses right for the wind. Corbett lands a stiff one on the ear. Corbett is very confident. He lands two left jabs on the jaw and has Broad on the defensive. They clinch, with some in-fighting, but no damage. Corbett lands a left jab and Broad counters on the nose. Corbett lands a stiff jab on the nose as the gong sounds. This is Corbett's round.

W. H. Rothwell (Young Corbett).

wind. Broad blocks a strong left swing. Corbett puts light left to chest. They clinch and a hot mix-up follows. Corbett is on the aggressive but Broad is blocking cleverly. Corbett lands right to wind. Broad ducks a vicious right swing. Broad lands a light one on the nose.

Round 5—They mix it up at the tap of the gong. Right and left jabs follow each other in quick succession. Broad lands two hard left jabs on the nose. Corbett puts right to wind. Corbett lands left jab to nose. Broad blocks right and left for the face. Broad lands hard left jab on the nose. They are slugging with plenty of steam to their blows. Broad lands on Corbett's nose. Broad jabs Corbett in face with left. Corbett ducks right swing for the jaw. In a clinch Corbett lands left jab. Corbett puts left to Broad's nose as the round closes. Broad is showing up in very fine form.

Round 6—They clinch. Broad puts left to Corbett's ear. Broad lands two right jabs on ear in clinch and repeats the dose. Corbett misses a left swing but puts hard right to wind. Broad puts a hard left jab to Corbett's nose. Broad ducks a right swing. Corbett rushes to clinch and they mix it up. Corbett lands a vicious left jab on nose and hard right to ribs. Broad puts two jabs to Corbett's nose. Corbett lands on stomach and Broad counters on face. Corbett jabs Broad in the nose. He misses an upper cut for Broad's nose as the gong sounds.

Round 10—They shake hands for the last round. They go at each other with left jabs on the head. In a clinch both land left and right to face. Corbett lands a hard left jab to nose. Corbett gets inside two of Broad's leads. Corbett is weakening and on the defensive. Broad puts four left jabs to Corbett's face without return. Corbett is groggy after seven hard jabs on the nose. Corbett rallies and comes back with right swings on nose. They are fighting fast and furious at close range. Corbett puts a hard left jab to nose. Broad lands right to wind. Corbett misses right swing. Corbett lands left jab, but Broad counters with right and left. Corbett comes back strong and lands two savage left jabs on the nose as the round closes.

The men weighed in at 126 pounds at 3 o'clock today. The betting was 2 to 1 on Corbett.

NOW READY TO FIGHT.

Fitz and Jeffries Arrange All Plans for the Big Battle.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—James J. Jeffries and Robert Fitzsimmons have agreed upon the final details for their battle here on July 25. The amended articles of agreement were signed late this afternoon at the Central theater. Billy Delaney representing Jeffries and Fitzsimmons being present in person. There was a brief discussion as to the kinetoscope privileges, Fitz insisting that the profits shall revert solely to the fighters, but a compromise was finally arranged, the San Francisco A. C., which

PRESBYTERIANS WANT UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS

Join With Protestant Episcopal Church in Crusade to Awake Country.

MINISTERS ARE WARNED

Must Be More Careful to See That Candidates for Marriage Obey Church Laws—Card Playing Is Tabooed for All Days.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 23.—At the afternoon session of the Presbyterian general assembly the report of the committee on church polity was read. It states that a communication from the committee of the general association of the Protestant Episcopal church had been received, making a request for the appointment of a committee of conference on marriage and divorce and that overtures on the same subject had been received from the Presbyterians of Baltimore and Washington. The committee recommended the following:

Resolved, That in response to the fraternal request of the committee of the Protestant Episcopal church, the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States appoint a committee of nine—five ministers and four elders—to confer with the committee of the Protestant Episcopal church and with similar committees that may be appointed by other churches, with a view to securing some concerted opinion and action by the churches of America relative to divorce and marriage, and so to affect public opinion that uniform legislation may be enacted that will conserve the family institution and preserve the solidity of the marriage bond.

Ministers Must Have Care.

That this general assembly, viewing with sad apprehension the many perils to family life in our time, the growing ease and frequency of divorce, upon grounds trivial and unscriptural, urges upon all our people the promotion of a wider reverence for the marriage bond, and requires of all our ministers that they instruct their people in public and private of the sacredness of the marriage institution, and that they exercise due diligence before the celebration of a marriage to ascertain that there exist no impediments thereto, as defined in our confession of faith.

The resolution was passed. The report also recommended the creation of a new presbytery in Porto Rico, and it was passed.

The Rev. Dr. William Henry Roberts, treasurer of the twentieth century fund, reported receipts during the last two years for the fund amounting to $7,652,-Sif 84. In addition to this Dr. Roberts said that about 1,000 churches had paid off their mortgages and freed themselves from debt.

The report of the committee on theological seminaries regretted the falling off in the number of theological students and asked for increased contributions. Appended to the report was a resolution in which care is advised in the selection of professors for theological seminaries in view of the "restless spirit of the times."

One Minority Report.

The committee on vacancies and supplies was divided and a minority report signed by the Rev. Robert Sample, D. D., and the Rev. Dr. Johnson of the McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago, was presented. The minority report advocated the establishment of a central bureau to bring vacant churches and unattached pastors together. The majority report advised that nothing so radical be undertaken.

Judge Wilson expressed the fear that this would be an entering wedge by which the general assembly would finally usurp and encroach on the powers and rights of the presbyteries and synods. Prof. Hendrick Johnson suggested that the assembly try the plan for three years.

Dr. Roberts, stated clerk of the assembly, did not think this was the time for beginning the experiment. The majority report was adopted. The committee on bills and overtures reported adversely on the report of a committee, asking that a protest be sent to congress against the printing at public expense of Thomas Jefferson's "Life of Christ." Nevertheless the assembly by a vote of 205 to 139 decided that the protest should be sent.

During the consideration of the report of the special committee on Sabbath observance R. Carothers of Grand Rapids, Neb., moved to strike out that part of the report in which card parties on Sunday are condemned.

No Day Left for Cards.

"It would convey the idea that the general assembly approves of card parties on other days of the week," said Mr. Carothers. The amendment was accepted.

After the adoption of the Sabbath observance report the report on church erection was called up. The report says that 35 per cent of all churches established, sooner or later cease to exist, but this is no reason to cease to aid in building new ones.

The board commenced the year with $198,275 and spent $205,269. The board begins the coming year with an empty treasury and only contributions received after the annual report had been completed enabled it to report no debt. Two hundred and fifty-nine churches were added during the year. The report was adopted.

The Rev. Dr. Hubbell of the New York Sabbath committee was then introduced and briefly described the work of that organization. Dr. Hubbell said the police department had helped them very much in their work, "even Devery used to help us," he said.

A SENATOR'S FOREBODING.

Fears the Development of the Philippines by American Energy Will Arouse Chinese Dragon.

WASHINGTON, D. CF., May 23.—A carefully prepared speech was delivered in the senate today on the Philippine bill by Mr. Dubois of Idaho. He tried to show that it would be a disadvantage to this country commercially to retain the islands. Whatever of profit there might be in them, he said, would accrue to a few capitalists who by their development of the resources of the archipelago through cheap labor, would come into competition with the farmers and manufacturers of the United States in the markets of the world. This government's activity in the Philippines also would serve to arouse China from her lethargy, and, once aroused, the dragon would devour the trade of the world.

A forcible reply was made by Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, who contended that the development of China's resources would be of advantage in trade and commerce to the United States, as the industrial development of other nations had been.

The senate agreed to a conference on the omnibus public building bill.

SPEECH AROUSED MUCH ENTHUSIASM

DR. ALEXANDER GILCHRIST PLEADED FOR NEW MISSIONARY WORK.

His Address Before the General Committee on Home Missions of the U. P. Church Will Probably Result in Larger Appropriation for New Work.

Whatever good the United Presbyterian church accomplishes this year in new home mission fields where the gospel is little known will be due, to a great measure, to the Rev. Dr. Alexander Gilchrist, secretary of the Board of Home Missions. He delivered an address for the greater growth of Christian work that set the general committee on home missions to the work of "cutting," to leave a surplus for new work.

Dr. Gilchrist's address was delivered at the afternoon session. From the manner in which the committee was generously dispensing its aid, Dr. Gilchrist concluded that there would be nothing left for new work, and immediately jumped to his feet to deliver the most telling speech of the day.

He had scarcely done when the Rev. Dr. George McCormick, chairman of the committee, arose and asked that Cartersville, in the San Francisco presbytery, be cut from $470 to $150. Central Falls, Boston presbytery, followed and asked to be reduced $20. Dr. Gilchrist's powerful plea will probably add about $35,000 for new work.

"It is not a question," said Dr. Gilchrist, in the course of his speech, "of providing support for a minister, but where we can place $67,000 for Jesus Christ and his work. This is the question. It is a matter of taking up new life, of becoming more and more imbued with the missionary spirit. We must make grants for this work, and to do so must cut down expenses in older fields."

Both sessions yesterday were given entirely to routine work. Up to the present $47,742 has been appropriated. It is the opinion of the members that, including new work, the general committee will recommend not less than $125,000 for home missions. This will be $25,000 more than last year.

A noted arrival yesterday was the Rev. Dr. William Harvey of Cairo, Egypt. Dr. Harvey represents the Delta presbytery of that country. On his entering the meeting a reception was held in his honor. Dr. Harvey has been in the foreign field for over 30 years. He is the only foreign delegate on the committee. A reception was also accorded the Rev. Dr. J. O. Brown, a former secretary of the Board of Home Missions. Last night special services were held, at which addresses on "The Present Crisis in the Home Work" were made by the Rev. Drs. George McCornick, J. W. Ashwood and D. L. McNary. Only a morning session will be held today.

FIREWORKS PEOPLE PUT IN AN APPEARANCE

They Want Pittsburgh's Big Celebration to Be Brilliant—Bodies to Meet the President.

All responsibility for the arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration have been transferred to the general committee. The sub-committees have already begun their work, and at the meeting of the general committee at City hall this afternoon partial reports will be made.

The fireworks people are already on the ground. Frank C. Dietz of New York, representing Pain, arrived yesterday. He has sold fireworks to the city for a number of years. One year he was given an order for $5,000 worth. He called on Recorder Brown and was instructed to negotiate with the committee on fireworks.

It is intended to have a number of set pieces this year. President Roosevelt is to be seen in a set piece, and Recorder Murphy of Allegheny, Mayor Black of McKeesport, and Recorder Brown of Pittsburgh, are to be honored with similar representation.

The French colony, and there are more of them than many people suppose, wish to honor President Roosevelt, and have him receive them in a body. Raymond Gros of No. 5414 Ellsworth avenue wrote to Recorder Brown yesterday asking him what arrangements could be made with President Roosevelt to have him receive the French people. The recorder replied, telling him to place himself in communication with Col. A. J. Logan, chairman of the committee, or with ex-Mayor W. J. Diehl, who is secretary of the committee.

Requests are constantly coming in from bodies wishing to be received by the president. These matters will all be referred to the president himself, and everything will be regulated by his wishes. Some sort of a reception will be given, either at the Hotel Schenley or at the home of the citizen who entertains the president, and this will be in the hands of the reception committee.

It is probable that a committee on publicity may be added to the sub-committees which have already been appointed. Its duty will be to keep before the people within a radius of 100 miles of Pittsburgh various facts concerning the coming celebration.

AIMED AT FREDERICK.

Texas Congressman Would Prohibit Monument to Monarchs.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Representative Stephens of Texas today introduced a resolution aimed at the tender of a monument of Frederick the Great to the United States.

It sets forth that the United States should not accept from any foreign nation or erect in any public place any statue of any king, emperor, prince or potentate who has ruled or is now ruling any nation by the supposed divine right of kings.

After years of patient study and delving into the dusty record of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 3405 First National Bank building, Fort Wayne, Ind., makes the startling announcement that he has surely discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claim and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seems to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his remarkable "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free to anyone who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system. Blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of and the sure remedy for it will be sent you free by return mail.

Lots.

BRIGHTON ROAD LOTS

The Kleber Plan, in Allegheny.

The Finest Lots in the Two Cities.
Adjoining the Brighton Country Club.

Only 25 minutes from the business center of Pittsburgh.

These desirable lots are not situated in the middle of a farm; they are in the heart of the very best residential district of Allegheny, running 600 feet along Brighton road and 600 feet back toward California ave., adjoining and being a part of the property until recently occupied by the Allegheny Country Club.

This property is level, lies high and dry and is free from the city smoke and dirt, being, in fact, cleaner and healthier than Bellevue, Avalon, the East End and other nearby suburbs.

The Brighton road and California ave. cars pass by this property, requiring about 25 minutes to reach the business center of Pittsburgh. The property is located about half way between Allegheny and Bellevue.

Don't Wait

Buy a lot for investment or a home. Reference to the above plan will show that these lots are amply large for roomy houses and lawns.

Considering the high quality of these most desirable home sites, the prices at which they can be bought are the most reasonable that were ever put on such gilt-edge property. Plans mailed on application. 'Phone 1528 Grant and 614 Main, or call on 521-523 Fifth ave.

FOUND.

FOUND—On Center ave., E. E., a large box containing 25 one-pound boxes of SATISFACTION COFFEE. The finder refuses to give it up, as he has not used coffee for two years on account of it making him nervous; after trying some of this coffee he says it is deliciously refreshing, that he can drink it just before going to bed and get sleep like a brick. The maker of SATISFACTION COFFEE may be a loser, but he is no goose.

CASH COMING TO THE EAST BY MILLIONS

Sub-Treasury Also Pouring Money Into the Coffers of New York City Banks.

FINE REPORT LOOKED FOR

Gold Shipments to Europe Staved Off, but Will Occur in Due Time, to the Extent of $15,000,000 or $20,000,000—New Corporations.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 23.—A feature of the movement of money during the coming week has been the heavy receipts of currency from the interior, the preliminary figures indicating a gain of nearly $3,000,000. This is the heaviest gain reported in weeks, and shows that the movement of funds from the west in this direction is well under way. In addition to the gain from the interior movement the banks in their operations with the subtreasury show a balance of $565,000. The New York News Bureau figures a gain for the banks on all accounts of $5,281,670.

If the forecasts prove correct tomorrow's bank statement will be a favorable one from the standpoint of cash as well as surplus. No wide change in the loan item is anticipated. In fact, bankers say indications are that the averages probably will show a further loan contraction.

One of the best proofs that the banks are gaining in strength is found in the continued ease of money rates. Call money on the stock exchange during the past three days has ruled at 3½@4 per cent, and time funds have shown corresponding ease. As a result of the easier money conditions the demand for commercial paper shows considerable improvement.

The foreign loans negotiated by this country within the past few weeks simply means the postponement of gold exports. How much gold will be required to satisfy Europe the coming summer is a question that bankers are asking themselves. A representative of a bank with prominent foreign connections today said that between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 gold would be shipped to Europe within the next four or five months.

New Corporations.

The Ohio Brass Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital stock of $1,000,000. The incorporators of the company are Frank Black, Reid Carpenter, Charles N. King and Henry S. Black. No information concerning the plans of the enterprise could be obtained today, except that the erection of a large brass works at some point in Ohio is contemplated.

Another new match company, the Parker Match Company, is in course of organization. It will have a capital stock of $3,000,000 and will file papers of incorporation in New Jersey in a few days. The identity of the people back of the enterprise could not be obtained today.

Two concerns that will confine their operations to Alaska were incorporated in New Jersey today. The Valdez, Copper River & Yukon railroad took out papers with a capital stock of $2,400,000. The incorporators are, Horace S. Gould, John I. Billings and K. E. McLaren, all associated with the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey. It is said that John W. Gates is behind the movement. The Anglo-Alaskan Construction Company is the name of the other concern which is capitalized at $3,500,000.

Gates Corners Morgan.

The Evening Post today says: "Developments in Wall street today brought out the fact that the Monon railroad deal, as announced by J. P. Morgan & Co., probably cannot be put through unless the firm exercises an option to buy at $150 a share about 200,000 shares of Louisville & Nashville. This stock is held under option. Exercise of that option would call for payment of $30,000,000. If the option is not exercised, however, the Gates and Hawley syndicates, which sold part of their stock purchases to J. P. Morgan & Co., can reclaim the whole of their holdings on repayment of the advances and interest. That would mean loss of control of the Louisville & Nashville railway to J. P. Morgan & Co.

"It is to be assumed that this loss of control will not take place. To prevent it, however, the firm will have been called to pay over $43,000,000 for the Louisville & Nashville railroad.

E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 23.—A sensational strike is reported in the fourth level of the C. O. D., on Poverty gulch, Cripple Creek. The extent of the find is not yet determined, but one streak returns assays of from $3 to $5 a pound. It was the general belief that the ore chute in this mine had faulted, and this strike means a great deal for the end of the camp.

Mining conditions generally throughout the Cripple Creek district are in good shape. There is not a hill within a radius of the gold belt that is not the scene of marked activity, and the outlying country is receiving considerable attention. Prospectors are showing the pluck and energy of the lesser, which again demonstrates his value as a developer of the mineral resources of the camp. The tonnage for the camp for the month will be slightly in excess of 50,000.

The proposition to control the entire output of the lead industry in Joplin, made to the directors of the Missouri & Kansas Miners' association the first of the week, has been favorably acted upon by a large massmeeting of the producers of the district. The mine owners operating in the district signed the contract, which fixed the minimum price at $30 on a 60 per cent basis for a period of one year from July 1, the industry is receiving considerable attention. Prospectors are showing the pluck and energy of the lesser, which again demonstrates his value as a developer of the mineral resources of the camp. The tonnage for the camp for the month will be slightly in excess of 50,000.

The proposition to control the entire output of the lead industry in Joplin, made to the directors of the Missouri & Kansas Miners' association the first of the week, has been favorably acted upon by a large massmeeting of the producers of the district. The mine owners operating in the district signed the contract, which fixed the minimum price at $30 on a 60 per cent basis for a period of one year from July 1, the Georgetown district, Col., as in Cripple Creek, the tendency of the owners and controllers at present appears to be toward leasing in preference to working for principals' accounts; and there seems to be no difficulty in finding takers for leasing propositions on terms very profitable to lessors.

The new company will continue the development of the Josephine, near Redding, Cal. The ores, which are refractory, will be shipped to the Keswick smelter, the stamp mill at the mine having been sold and removed.

The Metal Market.

About 3,100,000 pounds of lake copper was sold today for July and August delivery at $12.62½@. The local market closed steady, with standard spot to August, quoted at 12c; inside 12.55@12.85c; electrolytic, 12.85@12.50c; casting, 12.12½@12.37½c. The London market was unchanged at 55s. Tin was dull, with spot at 29.85@30.25c. The London tin market was 5 shillings higher, with spot at £136 10s and futures at £135. Lead was steady and unchanged here at 4.00c and unchanged at London at £11 11s 3d. Spelter gained 10 points at New York, closing at $4 75. London was unchanged at £18 10s. The further advance at New York was caused by a scarcity of spot supplies. Iron ruled quiet and unchanged at New York. Pig iron warrants remained nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, was quoted at $19 50@20 50; No. 2 foundry, northern, $19 50@20 50; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $18 50@19 50. The English markets ruled about steady. Glasgow closed at 55s 9d and Middlesboro at 49s 3d.

Wall Street Dull to Stagnation Point

HIGHER PRICES COME IN LONDON, BUT DO NO GOOD

Cables Do Not Stir Brokers from Lethargy to Boom Their Business.

FEW STOCKS ARE ACTIVE

Canadian Pacific and Colorado Fuel Lead Off With Slight Advances. Coal Strike Still Has Bad Influence on the Dealings.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 23.—Today's stock market was dull to the point of stagnation. The higher prices in London induced an improvement at the opening here, but it was lost through mere inanition. Until the last hour there was hardly enough motive power to show any direction in the movement, with the exception of some special stocks. There was quite an active demand for the National Lead stocks, due to the expectation that the company would benefit from a proposed combination in an alleged branch of the trade. The American Linseed stocks rose on rumors of a combination of the vegetable oil interests. The firmness of Amalgamated, Anaconda and Smelting was due to the continued reports of the widening demand for raw copper, both here and abroad. The improvement in the copper trade is an influence extending far beyond the stocks immediately affected.

Some Stocks That Rise.

There was a renewal of the recent strength in Canadian Pacific, but when the advance reached 1½ it halted. Pacific Mail's 2½ points rise was unexplained. The George A. Fuller stocks made wide advances, and the New York public utilities and Colorado Fuel developed late strength, the latter rising 2½. The appearance of the preliminary figures of the week's movement of currency awakened more animation than at any time during the day. Outside of those stocks already mentioned the effect was not noticable, except in the Paul, Union Pacific and Atchison. The currency figures indicate a net gain by the banks on interior movement of nearly $5,000,000, which is supplemented by a gain on sub-treasury operations of $565,000. Bankers are generally agreed that there has been a further heavy contraction of loans and reduction of deposit liabilities. It will be seen that the promise is for an extremely favorable bank statement. The response in the stock market was very moderate. Possibly this was due to the fact that the inward movement of currency has been checked.

Exchange Takes a Drop.

New York exchange at Chicago fell back today to near par compared with 60 cents premium early in the week. There was transferred today through the subtreasury $200,000 to New Orleans, following the like amount transferred yesterday. There was a call today for a 25 per cent installment of cash on subscriptions to the steamship merger syndicate, which calls for $12,500,000, of which about 60 per cent is payable in New York. The transaction did not cause a ripple today in the local money market. The determined waiting attitude of the market seems to be due to the uncertainties of the coal strike and to the approach of the critical period of the corn crop. The latter is receiving more and more attention every day, and is destined to have a greater influence on speculation than any other one factor. Definite news is also awaited of the result of the Boer peace conference. Confidence is growing that there will be a favorable outcome.

The bond market was dull but firm. Total sales, par value, $2,290,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Dun's Trade Review

LABOR TROUBLE WORST FEATURE OF WEEK'S TRADE

Situation in Iron and Steel Intensified by Threatened Lack of Fuel.

CROP REPORTS ARE GOOD

Railway Earnings Continue Satisfactory and Some Roads Report a Good Increase—Small Wheat Exports—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Review.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 23.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Many minor labor controversies have been settled, but the situation in the anthracite coal region has assumed a more serious aspect. Railway earnings continue satisfactory and roads reporting for the two weeks of May show gains of 6.1 per cent over last year and 18.4 per cent over 1900.

No change is reported in the iron and steel situation, former conditions merely becoming intensified by the threatened decrease in supplies of fuel and the labor controversies in certain branches of the industry. The railways are seeking rails, rolling stock and other equipment, while contractors require much structural material.

Weak conditions have prevailed in the cereal markets, with only a moderate volume of option transactions and fractional changes in quotation. Exports of wheat, including flour, were only 3,865,368 bushels during the past week from all ports of the United States, against 5,225,130 bushels in the corresponding week last year. Small receipts of corn, amounting to only 1,263,188 bushels for the week, against 3,667,642 a year ago, held the spot price at about 70 cents.

Failures for the week numbered 192 in the United States against 180 last year, and 12 in Canada, against 22 last year.

Local Stocks Were Still Quite Dull and Generally Rather Heavy

HEAVY BUYING SENT ELECTRIC SECONDS TO 107

About 1,200 Shares Were Taken by One Firm on the Local Board.

STEEL STOCKS WERE DULL

Window Glass Common Was Easier and Lower—Pressed Steel Car Common Firmer—Coal Issues Dull. Trust Stocks Firm and Active.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was still quite dull and generally rather heavy in tone. The features of interest were limited to one or two issues, and the brokers spent most of the time in discussing extraneous matters or watching New York quotations. The principal activity of the day was in Westinghouse Electric seconds, the trading done amounting to almost 1,800 shares, of which one firm took about 1,200. The stock opened firm at 105¼ and gradually worked up to 106 and 106¼. Just before the close some of the principal sellers of the forenoon turned buyers and the stock was rushed up to 107, a gain of 1⅝ for the day. There was also heavy trading in Wall street, and after the marketing of a large order the stock advanced and closed firm. This caused the strength here. The firsts were entirely neglected, not even receiving a quotation. Westinghouse Airbrake also passed without a sale, but quoted at 183½ bid and 185 asked. Union Switch & Signal preferred was $4 lower at 106 for 50 shares, this being the first sale of the stock since the first part of last month. The steel issues were quite dull and closed rather heavy. Crucible common sold 245 at 22 and the preferred 500 at 85½. The selling of the latter was by the same house that marketed about 1,000 shares Thursday. The prices of both were unchanged. United States Steel common closed steady at 40¼, a loss of ⅛ on sales of 370 shares and the preferred sold 200 at 90⅝@90¾, a loss of ⅝. American Window Glass common was dull and ¼ lower at 58¼. Pressed Steel Car common advanced ⅜ to 42½ and was afterward bid up to 45¼, with offers ⅓ higher. The coal stocks were quite dull but about steady. Real Estate Trust was active and firm at 278, the last price, and United Realty Trust was ½ higher at 137½. Trade Dollar Mining advanced 20 cents a share to $1.70. Bonds were dull but firm. In the quotations Union Trust Company was bid up $50 to $1,200, a new high record and the highest price ever offered for a Pittsburgh trust company. Western Savings and Deposit bank also made a new high record by advancing ½ to 110 bid.

Financial Drift.

Franklin Steel Casting offered at 84.

American Sewer Pipe stock quoted at 19 bid.

National Union Fire Insurance offered at 140.

Federal National bank offered at 137, 136 bid.

Standard Chain was quoted at 9½ bid, 9¾ asked.

At the close $389 was bid for Colonial Trust Company.

W. A. McCutcheon bid 249 for Common-wealth Real Estate Trust Company, and offered it at 280.

South Side Trust Company quoted at 111 bid, 113½ asked.

Mustin advanced Union Trust to $1,280 bid, a new high record.

At the opening, Sproul offered 1,000 United States Steel at 40½.

Western Savings and Deposit was wanted at 110, a new high record.

United States Fire Proofing 6s were quoted at 103¼ bid; $2,000 sold.

Marlin offered Trade Dollar Mining at $1.70 at the close, $1.85 was bid.

Pittsburgh, Wilkinsport & Connellsville Street Railway 5s offered at 100½.

Pittsburgh & Charleroi Street Railway 5s quoted at 105¾ bid and 106 asked.

R. S. Hall offered a block of $50,000 Bessemer Railroad consolidated 5s at 121½.

Preston, Watt & Scheyer sold 10 Cosmopolitan National bank at 105½ near the opening.

W. A. McCutcheon bid 88 for North American Savings Company and 190 for Standard Security Trust Company.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange National Lead preferred offered at 91 ex-dividend and 71 was bid for Amalgamated Copper.

New York banks have gained between $8,000,000 and $7,000,000 cash since last Friday, assuring an excellent bank statement today.

The first sale of the day was 200 River Coal common at 12¾. An inside house bought the block and 200 shares more at the same price.

Robinson Bros. were conspicuous buyers of Westinghouse Electric seconds and Hill & Co., Lawrence and Sproul & Co. were heavy sellers.

Henry M. Hall has transferred his membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange, contingent upon the election of Clarence Morrow. Mr. Morrow is R. C. Hall's bookkeeper.

Thursday R. C. Hall picked up over 200 shares of Real Estate Trust at 276@278. Yesterday he continued to gather in the stock at 278, getting 200 shares, and Carothers & Co. also secured 50 at that price.

Books of the Colonial Trust Company opened yesterday morning for subscription by present stockholders to its 1,000 shares of new stock to be issued. Subscriptions will be received until Monday at 3 p. m., when the books will close.

The stockholders of the Indemnity Guarantee Company will hold a conference at the office of the company in the Monongahela National bank building this afternoon, the object of which is to devise means for the betterment of the company.

The stockholders of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company and the Washington Trust Company, both of Washington, have voted to merge the two institutions. The new concern will be known as the Washington Trust Company, with a capital of $500,000.

The story in Wall street is that a syndicate including T. J. Ryan and the Guggenheims has about secured control of all the important lead mines, smelting and manufacturing concerns in the country. It is thought that it is due to this story that the smelting and lead stocks are strong.

We understand that the prime mover in the steel casting combination, which is to have $20,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $20,000,000 common stock, is Mr. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation, and that only $5,000,000 of cash is raised from the underwriters. There will be seven companies in the combination, and it will be at the start a practical monopoly.—Wall Street Journal.

At a meeting of the directors of the Corn Products Company, held in New York, the by-laws of the company were amended so as to postpone the date for the action on dividends for one month. June 17 was set as the date on which action will be taken. The by-laws, as so amended, now read that the regular dividends of the Corn Products Company shall be held on the third Tuesdays in March, June, September and December of each year, and the dividends shall be paid on the 10th days of January, April and October.

A Philadelphia special says: For several years last past there has been very little change in the number of shareholders in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. During the past three years the number has been close to 27,000, and at no time has it been over 27,500. Some years ago the stock was more widely distributed, and the number of shareholders amounted to nearly 29,000. Within the past few years there has been an increase in the holdings by New York people and New York's percentage at this time is 27 per cent. It has been estimated a couple of years ago the English holders parted with some of their stock, which was taken by New York, and ever since there has been an accumulation of Pennsylvania stock in New York hands. At the present time the percentage of holdings in this city is about 29 per cent. New York holds a like amount, and the foreign holdings are also estimated at 29 per cent. The local holdings in Philadelphia have slightly increased, as have also the holdings in New York, while the foreign holdings are somewhat less. The 1½ per cent falling is principally through the United States. The foreigners were large subscribers to the new

ANOTHER BIG GAIN.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for Yesterday Far Ahead of Last Year's Figures.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were more than $1,549,000 ahead of those for the same day last year, thus recording the second big gain of the week. Compared with the preceding Friday there was also an increase of about $1,170,000. The local money market remains firm and unchanged, with the rate for call and time loans at 5@6 per cent. The official clearing house reports in detail for the days mentioned are as follows:

| | Exchanges. | Balances. |
|---|---|---|
| Yesterday | $8,196,480 88 | $1,321,028 87 |
| Previous Friday | 7,020,340 24 | 802,502 64 |
| Yesterday's increase | 1,176,140 64 | 518,526 23 |

Yesterday's increase, $1,549,061 96.

Reports from other cities were:

NEW YORK, May 23.—Exchanges, $232,546,351; balances, $8,258,364.

BOSTON, May 23.—Exchanges, $21,000,355; balances, $1,683,730.

BALTIMORE, May 23.—Exchanges, $21,099,-355; balances, $1,506,; money, 5@6 per cent.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—Clearings, $22,-105,207; balances, $2,303,713; money, 4½ per cent.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Clearings, $24,027,415; balances, $1,455,727; posted exchange, $4 85 for 60 days, $4 88 on demand; New York exchange, 25c premium.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—Money at 4½@6 per cent; New York exchange, 25@30c premium; clearings, $2,989,950.

Earnings and Dividends.

There is talk of a dividend on Smelters.

Wheeling & Lake Erie April gross earnings increased $92,516; net increased $55,238.

The directors of Southern Cotton Oil declared a dividend of 4 per cent, payable June 14.

Chicago Great Western April net earnings decreased $12,433; ten months net, decreased $3,915.

The gross earnings of 48 roads for the second week of May show an average net increase of 8.89 per cent.

Directors of the United Matches Machinery Company declared a regular semi-annual dividend of $4 per share on the first preferred stock, payable May 23.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 2⅞; centrifugal 96 test, 3 7-16c. Molasses sugar, 2¾c. Refined firm. The coffee market opened steady, with prices unchanged and followed a narrow rut all day, with trade inane at most. The room was dead to the finish, having to contend with heavy receipts on the one hand and rather better European market news than expected on the other. There were few orders from abroad or from consuming markets, and the close quiet, with prices net unchanged to 5 points higher. Total sales were 111,750 bags, including May at 5.05c; June at 5.05c; July at 5.15c; October at 5.40@5.45c; November at 5.45c; December at 5.55c; March at 5.80c.

Turpentine and Rosin.

SAVANNAH, GA., May 23.—Turpentine firm at 45c bid. Rosin firm.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 23.—Turpentine and rosin unchanged.

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 23.—Spirits turpentine, nothing doing. Rosin firm, $1 10@1 15. Crude turpentine firm, $1 40, $2 50 and $2 60. Tar firm, $1 35.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, May 23.—A quiet general dry-goods market reveals no changes to be reported. There has been no change in prices in any description of either cotton or woolen goods, nor any change in the general market features. Linens are firm. Fair demand and very firm in price. Burlaps are steady with a limited business doing.

THE OIL FIELDS.

Developments in the lower southwest fields are of an ordinary character. The drill is not bringing to light any new pools and in the old fields nothing but light producers or dusters. There is still some wildcatting in the lower West Virginia counties, but none brings the desired result. The only section that gives promise of settling new producing territory is near the Carter Oil Company's Big Injun sand strike on the Daniel Harris farm, two miles north of Central station, in Doddridge county. The well is producing 150 barrels a day and has not been drilled through the sand.

In the Big Injun sand development, on the South Fork of Hughes river, Union district, Ritchie county, the Carter Company has completed its No. 14 on the Elmary Flanaghan farm and has a 50-barrel producer.

In the Stout district, Doddridge county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed No. 8 on the John A. Bode farm and No. 3 on the Lewis A. Bode farm and has a show for two fair producers in the sand.

On Richmond run, Wetzel county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its test well on the C. Garrett farm through the Gordon sand and has developed nothing but a light gas pressure.

In the "Little Germany" district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the Granville Yeager farm through the Gordon sand and has a show for a 100-barrel producer, natural. A shot will increase its production and make it as good a producer as the Redfox No. 1 to the west which is still holding up at 150 barrels a day.

On McKim creek, Meade district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 5 on the L. D. Smith farm 60 feet into the Big Injun sand and had found nothing at that depth. No. 16 on the J. L. Poe farm, in the same district, has dropped to 130 barrels a day.

On Dutchman's run, Murphy district, Ritchie county, and one mile southwest of the producer on the G. W. Braden farm the Southern Oil Company's test well on the C. Dotson heirs' farm has been completed in the salt sand and is a 15-barrel pumper.

On Big Kanawha run, Union district, Ritchie county, the South Penn Oil Company has shot its No. 1 on the S. A. Stewart farm and the well responded by placing 200 barrels to its credit the ensuing 24 hours.

Southeastern Ohio.

In the shallow sand territory in Morgan county, Ohio, the Trenton Rock company has completed its No. 24 on the Robert Wynn farm and has a 15-barrel pumper. In the same district J. C. Spunier has completed No. 10 on his own farm and has a 10-barrel pumper.

F. M. Selby has drilled in his No. 17 on the R. B. Lambert farm and has a show for a good pumper.

In the Joy district, in the same county, A. B. Allen & Co. have completed No. 7 on the Isaac and J. R. Ball farm, and have a show for a 15 or 20-barrel producer.

In the Macksburg field, in Washington county, the E. M. Johnson Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the Henry Neu farm and has a 10-barrel pumper from the 500-foot sand. In the same district the John S. Dunn Company has completed No. 7 on the John Crock farm and has a very light pumper.

In the Smith-Perry district, Beaver county, Pa., Galey Bros. have completed No. 4 on the W. W. Dawson farm and have a 10-barrel pumper.

At Leechville the Appalachian Oil Company has completed a test well on the Hurst heirs' farm and has a duster in the 100-foot sand.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Cabbage Prices Go Much Lower—Tomatoes Are Slightly Easier.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Local markets are steady, but trade is quiet, offerings on the exchange bringing very few bids to the front yesterday. The outlook for the month of 1902 is good, but buyers now will not be in the market for a couple of months, and quotations for spot goods are holding up well under pressure of fairly heavy supplies.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 13 cars hay, 4 cars corn, 11 cars oats, 2 cars straw, 2 cars feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 3 cars hay, 1 car straw; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 2 cars hay; total receipts, 38 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, milfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $8 00@9 00.

AGENT HAD RIGHT TO SIGN NAME OF MRS. SCHENLEY

Depositions Relating to Suit Over Block House Property Filed.

J. W. HERRON'S POSITION

Owner of Large Interests at the Point Ratifies Everything Done to Vacate Fort Street and Point Alley. Other Court Proceedings.

The deposition of Mrs. Mary E. Schenley in the controversy over the vacation of Fort street and Point alley, arising out of the objections raised by the Daughters of the American Revolution, was filed in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday. It was taken at Mrs. Schenley's home by Francis W. Frigout, deputy consul general at London.

In answer to the question as to what authority she vested in John W. Herron for the management of her estate, Mrs. Schenley answered: "I authorized him to do every thing that I would do myself, as if I were personally present, except to sign deeds and mortgages."

Answering the question as to whether Mr. Herron had her permission to sign the petition for the vacation of the Fort street and Point alley, she said:

"He had full authority from me to sign my name to the petition referred to."

As to whether she ratified the acts of Mr. Herron, Mrs. Schenley declared: "Yes; I do ratify and confirm the acts of said John W. Herron in signing my name to the petition presented to councils."

Gave Mr. Herron Full Power.

As to the authority vested in Mr. Herron for the sale of the Third street property, Mrs. Schenley said she had given him full power to contract the sale and do everything that would bring about or expedite the sale. She declared she had given power of attorney to W. A. Herron and John W. Herron, dated June 29, 1891, and that she did not specifically authorize John W. Herron to sign the petitions, but that she wrote to him to do as he thought right.

This question was asked Mrs. Schenley: "Prior to November 25, 1901, did you know that under your deed to the Daughters of the American Revolution for the block house property, you reserved the right to petition the city in behalf of said real estate to vacate Fort street and Point alley?"

Knew She Had Reserved Rights.

Mrs. Schenley answered: "Yes, prior to November, 1901, I knew that I had reserved the right referred to."

Upon cross-interrogatories Mrs. Schenley was asked whether she ever authorized John W. Herron to sign the petitions, and she replied: "I authorized John W. Herron to sign such petitions, although I never gave him specific authority to sign petitions for vacating Fort street and Point alley by name.

"I have always been aware of the fact that in the proper management and development of my estate in America, it would be necessary to open and improve, and possibly to vacate streets and alleys, and I have known that to do this would require some action in my behalf as the owner of the property through which the streets and alleys passed."

Mrs. Schenley also swore that nothing has been done by Mr. Herron without first having obtained her approval, and that she had been of the opinion for years that Fort street and Point alley should be vacated.

DRAWING NOT NECESSARY

J. M. Hansen Answers Injunction Suit of Pressed Steel Car Company. Partial Hearing Held.

A partial hearing was held in common pleas No. 1 in the case of the Pressed Steel Car Company against J. M. Hansen for an injunction and receiver, for taking blue prints from the office of the plaintiff. The testimony indicated that these prints were made for Mr. Hansen, formerly chief engineer of the plaintiff company and now president of the newly organized Standard Steel Car Company, and he admitted that he had possession of them.

It was alleged, however, that some of the blue prints of the Pressed Steel Car Company were in the possession of the Standard Steel Car Company, and objection was made that the Standard company should be brought in as a party to the suit. The hearing was continued so that the bill might be amended to include the Standard company and cover all blue prints.

Hansen's answer denies that the plaintiff's business cannot be carried on without the prints, or that they would be of any value to the Standard company. He says that any one familiar with such work can construct most of the drawings. He declares the blue prints are usually copies, and upon one occasion, in order to examine them, he had a set sent to his office. Some of these were destroyed and he does not know what became of the remainder.

INSURANCE COMPANY LOSES.

Stevenson & Foster Get a Verdict in a Test Case to Recover.

The jury in the case of Stevenson & Foster against the American Fire Insurance Company of New York, returned a verdict of $1,282 88 for the plaintiffs. It was an action to recover $2,403 13 for insurance on teh plaintiffs' building at Nos. 327 and 329 Wood street, and the verdict was to have been the basis for the settlement of suits against 58 insurance companies, involving $102,800.

The plaintiffs' building bulged out one morning and before it could be repaired an explosion took place. Immediately afterward the building was on fire and with its contents was entirely destroyed.

The insurance companies claimed that the building was destroyed by its collapse and not by fire. Some firemen testified that the floors and walls of the building were still standing when they responded to the alarm.

USED GUN RECKLESSLY.

Boy Who Shot Playmate Was Found Guilty of Assault—Teacher Acquitted of Same Charge.

In the criminal court George Fisher, charged with aggravated assault and battery by Theodora Faloris, was found guilty of simple assault and battery. The defendant, about 16 years old, was charged with shooting Faloris, a playmate, in the right eye with a flobert rifle, causing him to lose the sight of that eye. It was alleged that the defendant shot the gun recklessly.

W. J. Snyder, teacher of the Neville Island school, was acquitted of assault and battery, preferred by Grant Miller, and the costs were divided. Snyder was accused of cruelly whipping the prosecutor's son Howard on March 31 with a gum hose. The court room was crowded with pupils from the school, the majority of whom were witnesses. All testified that the defendant taught a good school and that the boy was unruly and deserved the punishment he received.

Mary Ebbert was found guilty of stealing $100 worth of household goods. The goods belonged to Mrs. Ebbert, but were attached for rent. In spite of the attachment, she removed the goods from Wilkinsburg about April 1 to Hazelwood. She was prosecuted by H. W. Kalap, a constable of Wilkinsburg.

WANTED TO SATISFY THEM

Mrs. Garrity Lost Marriage Certificate When She Pasted It Outside to Allay Curiosity.

Mrs. Anna B. Garrity entered the marriage license office yesterday and requested that she be given another marriage certificate. She told Clerk Harvey Herd that she was married on June 12, 1894. She said:

"My neighbors do not believe I am married, so I pasted my marriage certificate on the door. A few days ago somebody tore it down and I want another."

She received a duplicate.

Edward Wilson, colored, experienced considerable trouble in getting a license to marry Ella Eubanks. Wilson was in jail and could not attend to the matter, so he sent his prospective father-in-law, Samuel Eubanks, to get the license. Eubanks found that he lacked 70 cents of having enough money to pay for the license. He said he had been told it would cost 80 cents. He wanted to trade an old silver watch, with his 80 cents for the license. This could not be done, and he left the office to "hunt the money," as he expressed it. He returned a short time before 4 o'clock and produced the necessary 70 cents in pennies, nickles and dimes.

Oil Company Gets a Verdict.

In the United States circuit court the jury returned a verdict of $12,750 for the plaintiff in the case of the Penn Refining Company against the Western New York & Pennsylvania Railroad Company and others. The case of the American Oil Works, limited, against the same defendant was taken up. Both cases are to recover alleged overcharges for the transportation of oil.

CONSTABLE IN TROUBLE.

Alderman Downey Sued J. Thompson, Alleging He Called Him a Thief.

Alderman John Downey of the Fifth ward sued Joseph Thompson, constable of the same ward, for $5,000 damages for alleged slander. Downey declares Thompson accused him of blackmail and renting houses for immoral purposes. He avers that Thompson said, "Your office is a big bunko office, and I never got half of the money that was coming to me. Your clerk is a thief and you are a bigger thief than Cloonan, your clerk."

Today's Trial Lists.

The following desertion and surety of the peace cases will be heard in criminal court today: Joseph Steiner, William Marcus, Sr., Patrick Shea, Jacob Letufski, Jacob Esedick, Jacob Ripple, John Huanoy, Lee Moyer, Fred Otto, Herman H. Schole, Augustus Signfas, Francis R. Williams, Alfred Holden, Joseph Frout, Alfred Rosensteel, James L. Thomas, A. and Harry Graham, William Morris.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The account of the executor of the estate of John Fullerton shows a balance of $10,669 82.

The will of Elizabeth Hart, late of Bethel township, was filed. Nearly her entire estate goes to William McCulley, a brother.

A bill in equity was filed by Mary J. Bickerton against Lou Wray and others for the partition of property in Jefferson township.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by John W. Welser, a lumber dealer of Clarion county, giving liabilities of $2,173 and assets of $766.

James W. Stevens, Jr., of Vandergrift, and Ephraim Truxall, Wilson Harper and Jacob Stein of Pittsburgh were discharged from bankruptcy.

A bill in equity was filed by Emily Doak against Susanna Davidson and others to restrain them from interfering with a right of way in Plum township.

A petition for the dissolution of the Union Supply Company was filed. The assets of the company have been sold and there is $480.000 on hand for distribution.

In several of the cases of W. P. Mack against John E. F. Logue the jury failed to agree and in one of them a verdict for the defendant was returned. The suits were to recover on notes.

The Braddock police surrendered Charles Kennedy of High Point, N. C., to Sheriff W. F. Redding of Ashboro, N. C. An attempt was made to release Kennedy on a writ of habeas corpus, but without success.

An answer was filed in the case of Morris Scott Verner against Priscilla M. Scaife and others for the partition of the real estate of the late James Verner. Murray A. Verner, as defendant, says he joins in with the plaintiff.

Habeas corpus proceedings were begun by Lillian Sanders to regain possession of her two children, Harold and Earl Sanders, whom she alleges were taken away from her by her husband, Calvin Sanders, and his father, Jacob Sanders.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Clyde Lord and Nettie Thompson of Franklin, doing business as Clyde Lord & Co. The firm owes $644 and has assets of $150. Individually neither Thompson nor Lord has any debts, while the latter has assets of $300.

The jury in the case of Anna J. Robinson against Jane Munden, formerly Jane Powell, failed to agree and was discharged. The plaintiff sued to recover $29,364 37 with interest from February 19, 1898. It was claimed that upon that date Thomas Robinson placed this sum in the hands of the defendant as trustee for the plaintiff.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Mary A. Joyce against George E. Joyce was filed. They were married on February 6, 1880. Mrs. Joyce alleges that her husband on one occasion struck her on the back with a dust brush, and that her child was marked as the result of the blow. She also says that on another occasion he hit her with a basin, knocked her down and jumped on her until she was helpless.

PIERCE MAKES REPORT.

Amalgamated Association Matters in Eastern Pennsylvania.

John Pierce, assistant to the president of the Amalgamated association, returned yesterday from a trip through the mill district of Eastern Pennsylvania, where many of the men have been on strike. Nearly all the eastern mills in which the Amalgamated association is interested have granted the advance demanded for puddlers and finishers and Mr. Pierce anticipates that it will be only a short time till the American Steel and Iron Company will concede the advance at the Reading works.

President Shaffer yesterday announced his conference committee to meet representatives of the Republic Iron and Steel Company at Columbus, O., next Tuesday to arrange finally the scale for the year starting July 1, as follows: Elias Jenkins, Youngstown, O.; Morgan Jones, East Chicago; William Jenkins, Gate City, Ala.; J. J. Lewis, East St. Louis; John Shivers, Detroit; John H. Morgan, Waukesha, Wis.; D. J. Kenealy, Muncie, Ind.; P. J. McArdle, Muncie, Ind.; William Gibson, Pittsburgh; W. G. Wright, Toledo, O.; W. E. Eagan, Covington, Ky.; John F. Ward, Youngstown, O.; John Manor, Alexander, Ind.; P. J. McLaughlin, Kittanning, Pa.; William Hanley, Muncie, Ind.; W. W. Insley, East Chicago, and John E. Taylor, Pittsburgh.

One Dead in Buffalo Fire.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 23.—The loss by the fire which last night destroyed the transfer freight sheds of the New York Central railroad is today estimated at $150,000. J. J. Lester, an employe, was killed while working to get cars out of reach of the fire.
